VALUE-ADDED PROJECT TO BE ADOPTED ON CAMPUS

The true measure of a college's quality is the value it adds to the intellectual and personal development of its students. That was President Joseph C. Burke's message to Plattsburgh State's faculty and staff members when he greeted them on Tuesday afternoon.

Burke began his annual message to faculty with a review of last year's planning process, which emphasized creativity and competition. Burke complimented departments, centers and offices for the plans each submitted outlining how each area could become either "qualitatively better" or "distinctively different" from its external competitors. He was pleased that the plans were "devoid of defensiveness" and "realistic" and "exhibited a high level of conscientiousness and commitment from the faculty."

However there was a "missing link," he said, which must be supplied by a new meaning of quality, and he suggested that colleges will be judged "not on (their) capacity to recruit the brightest students and to receive the most resources, but on (their) ability to assist . . . students to become the best they are capable of being."

While Plattsburgh State has had a "long lead" in outcomes studies, Burke said, those studies have relied almost exclusively on perceptions and have lacked more objective data. The answer to this, he said, is the adoption of a "Value-Added Project." The Value Added Project will test students as they arrive on the campus and again as they depart, and will demonstrate whether and how much they have grown intellectually and personally during the years here.

"The adoption of 'Value Added' on our campus will challenge our courage and creativity," Burke said, "and will test us no less than our students." But, he concluded, "It defines the best college and university as the one that contributes the most to its students, to scholarship, and to the society it serves. It meets the dual test of competition and creativity, for it holds the promise of making our college and each of its components both qualitatively better and distinctively different than all of our competitors."

The complete text of President Burke's speech will be distributed as an insert to the September 5 issue of "Weekly."

FALL SEMESTER OPENS WITH DEPOSIT GOALS MET

Although fall does not begin for another month, the fall semester began at Plattsburgh State this week. Residence halls opened Sunday and Campus Life officials estimate that 75 to 80% of the college's student body arrived in town on that day.

Admissions Director Rich Higgins said on Friday that deposits have been received from approximately 1800 new full-time students — about 700 of which are transfer students and the rest incoming freshmen. He added that the quality indicators (high school averages and SAT scores) of this year's freshman class are very similar to those of last year's class. The total number of students at Plattsburgh State is expected to remain at just about last year's level.

About 40 new foreign students from 10 countries are expected to enroll by the end of the week. Many of the new foreign students were housed last week with host families throughout Clinton County. The 40 new students will bring the total of foreign students at the college to approximately 110.

Residence halls will again be full to overflowing, according to Dr. Eldridge Roark, vice president for student affairs. About 100 rooms are scheduled for triple occupancy for at least a time, he said. He added that this year more upperclass students requested dorm rooms than in previous years, continuing what may be a trend back to campus.

Several improvements have been made on campus over the summer. College Auxiliary Services has invested about $100,000 to make renovations in Clinton Dining Hall, one of the two dining halls on campus. New equipment was purchased for the serving line for increased efficiency, and considerable cosmetic improvements were made.

A space on the second floor of the Angell College Center has been designated to serve as a drop-in center for re-entry students. The center will be staffed by a work study student and all re-entry students are invited to visit the new area.

Fall semester classes begin Wednesday, August 29.

EARLY RETIREMENT BILL SIGNED BY GOVERNOR CUOMO: ABOUT 80 ELIGIBLE AT PSUC

Approximately 80 members of Plattsburgh State's faculty and staff members will be eligible to take advantage of the early retirement bill passed this summer by the New York State Legislature and signed on August 1 by Governor Mario Cuomo. Personnel director Mayerlyn Miller said that the bill offers three extra years of retirement credit to those who qualify. Members of the New York State Teachers Retirement System and TIAA who are or will be at least 55 years old prior to September 1, 1985 are eligible. Persons wishing to take advantage of the retirement incentive must declare their intent to do so no later than December 1, 1984 and must retire between June 1 and September 1, 1985.

Miller said that everyone on campus who is eligible will receive full details in a letter within the next few days. Three briefing sessions will be held during the week of September 10. In addition, a regional briefing meeting will be held at Potsdam State on September 20 and arrangements to attend can be made through the Personnel Office.

TWELVE FACULTY MEMBERS PROMOTED; SIX BECOME FULL PROFESSORS

Twelve faculty members have received promotions effective September 1, and six of those faculty members were promoted to full professor. They are Dr. Suzann Buckley, Dr. Fritz Kissner, Richard Mikkelson, Dr. Charles Mitchell, Dr. Edward Schaffer, and Dr. Stuart Voss.

Buckley, a member of the history department, was appointed to the faculty in 1975. In addition to history, she has been active in the areas of Canadian Studies and Women's Studies, and frequently makes presentations at national and international conferences in both areas. Buckley was the author of a recently commissioned work which outlined the renovation of the Capitol Building in Albany. She spent last year on sabbatic leave as a senior fellow at the Rockefeller Institute in Albany.

Buckley

Kissner

Mikkelson

Kissner joined the Plattsburgh faculty in 1975 as an assistant professor. He spent one year here, then taught for a year in Arizona. He returned to campus as an associate professor in 1977. He teaches both physics and environmental science, and is one of the coordinators of the college's engineering transfer program. As of this fall, he will officially be a member of the physics department, but will maintain ties with the Center for Earth and Environmental Science. Kissner has received several grants to fund research in the area of solar energy. This fall, he will be on sabbatic leave in the electrical engineering department at McGill University, with the intent of expanding our engineering transfer program and also beginning to develop a substantial electronics option in the physics department.

Mitchell

Schaffer

Voss

Rick Mikkelson came to Plattsburgh in 1969 as an art instructor. He was promoted to assistant professor in 1972 and to associate professor in 1975. Mikkelson teaches courses in design, drawing and painting. His works have been exhibited in numerous invited and juried exhibitions around the country, as well as in several one-man shows. He currently has paintings in two national juried exhibitions, one in Pennsylvania and one at Brooklyn College. Mikkelson works in both watercolors and oils and recently has concentrated on still lifes which are symbolic in content and focus on traditional and contemporary religious symbols. Last year, he received a SUNY Research Grant for research in painting.

Dr. Charles Mitchell has been a member of the education faculty since 1962. Hired as an assistant professor, he was promoted to associate professor in 1973. He has been active in faculty and university governance and served as alternate SUNY Senator for the past three years. He is a member of the SUNY Faculty Senate Committee on University Programs and Awards. He serves on the advisory board of Science Scope and on the manuscript review panel of Science and Children. Mitchell is also well known in the community for his knowledge of birds and his interest in conservation.

Dr. Edward Schaffer, a member of the sociology department, joined the faculty in 1968 as an instructor. He was promoted in 1970 to assistant professor and in 1973 to associate professor. His research interests lie in the area of the sociology of higher education, social theory, and criminology and he has written numerous articles which have been published in professional journals. Schaffer has been active on campus with special courses offered to the Foundation Scholars and has also helped with the organization of academically related activities, such as last year's "1984" symposia and the five-day program on the various aspects of nuclear war.

A member of the history department since 1972, Dr. Stuart Voss has served as coordinator of the Latin American Studies Program for five of the last six years. He joined the faculty as an assistant professor and was made an associate professor in 1979. He has been awarded two SUNY Research Foundation grants. Voss is the author of two major books on Latin America. Periphery and Progress in Nineteenth Century Mexico: Sonora and Sinaloa, 1810-1877 was published in 1982, and Notable Family Networks in Modern Latin America, 1750-1900 will be published in October. Voss has also hosted a public affairs show on WCFE-TV for the last five years.

Promoted to associate professor this fall were Dr. Jon Gottschall, political science, and Timothy Palkovic, Center for Art, Music and Theatre. Peggy LaFrance, nursing, was promoted to assistant professor.

In the Feinberg Library, Carla List and Gordon Muir were appointed senior assistant librarians

SLOBEN RESIGNS SA PRESIDENCY

Christine Sloben has resigned as president of the Plattsburgh State Student Association. Executive vice president Spencer Weisbroth will complete the final four months of Sloben's term.

In her resignation letter, Sloben stated that she, like many other students must work in order to remain in school. "Last semester, I had to work an average of 30 hours a week between two jobs," she said. Sloben also serves in the Army Reserve. "The requirements, in addition to schoolwork, consumed a great deal of my time and energy last semester and made it quite difficult for me to fulfill my obligations as Student Association President."

Sloben, a junior geology major from Syosset, NY, also expressed a concern that financial problems may stop other students from seeking SA offices. "I know this has affected many other students who have aspired to holding a Student Association office," she wrote, "but could not due to job-related time commitments. I feel it is imperative that the SA rectify this matter by providing its officers with either a stipend or college credit for the work they do, as most other SUNY schools do."

COURSE WITHDRAWAL DATES CHANGED FOR 1984-85

The last day to withdraw from a full-semester course without having the instructor's and department chairman's approval is Tuesday, November 13th for the fall semester and Friday, April 5th for the spring semester. These dates are changed from the previously published dates in the official 1984-85 calendar, because of a Faculty Senate policy that was passed last year.

MAYERLYN MILLER NAMED PERSONNEL DIRECTOR

Mayerlyn Miller, former dean of planning and development at Orange County Community College, has been named Director of Personnel and Affirmative Action. Miller assumed her duties in July.

Miller received both a bachelor's degree in political science and a master's degree in educational administration from Eastern Michigan University, and is currently completing work for a master's degree in computer science. From 1977 to 1979, she was executive director of the American Heart Association in Poughkeepsie, NY. She then served as a research assistant at IBM in Kingston and at Dutchess Community College in Poughkeepsie. In 1981, she was named director of institutional research and affirmative action officer at Orange County Community College. She was promoted to dean in 1983. In that position, Miller planned and executed wage and salary studies, prepared state and federal employment reports, and developed and managed strategic planning operations.

Miller was secretary/treasurer of the SUNY Association for Institutional Research and Planning Officers during the 1983-84 year and is currently Northeast Regional Director of the National Council for Research and Planning.

ADMISSIONS, CO-OPERATIVE EDUCATION OFFICES RELOCATE

During the summer, several offices in the Kehoe Administration Building have been relocated. The Admissions Office is now located on the tenth floor. Jan Edwards, assistant to the president for enrollment management, said that the new location offers a breathtaking view of the campus and the surrounding area, which serves to enhance a visitor's first impression of the college. Edwards commended the Maintenance and Operations staff on an excellent remodeling job and invited the entire college community to visit the new Admissions Office.

The Co-operative Education Office has moved into the area vacated by the Admissions Office on the fourth floor of the Kehoe Building. The Job Development and Location Office, however, which was formerly housed within the Cooperative Education Office, is now located within the Financial Aid Office.

The credit union, which was on the sixth floor, is moving this week to the fourth floor. The Credit Union will be open for business during the same hours as before. The Faculty Senate office is also being relocated on the fourth floor.

ROBERT CLINTON TO DIRECT MARRIOTT OPERATIONS ON CAMPUS

Robert Clinton has been named Director of Dining Services for the Marriott Corporation on the Plattsburgh campus. Clinton replaces Peter Petrosian, who was promoted during the summer and transferred to SUNY Binghamton.

Clinton has been employed by the Marriott Corporation since 1969 and has served as director of dining services at the National Cathedral School in Washington, D.C.; Marymount College of Virginia in Arlington, VA; Hood College in Frederick, Maryland; West Texas State University in Canyon, Texas; and, most recently, at Bentley College in Waltham, Massachusetts.

Clinton received a B.S. in hotel and restaurant management in 1964 from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst and did graduate work in marketing, management, accounting and computer science at West Texas State. He served in the U.S. Air Force from 1964 to 1968, and managed officer's clubs in Michigan and in the Philippines.

NORTHERN TELECOM CREATES ENDOWMENT FUND FOR CANADIAN STUDIES

Northern Telecom, one of Canada's largest multinational electronics firms, has established an endowment fund through the Plattsburgh College Foundation to provide financial support for the college's Canadian Studies program. Dr. Richard Beach, director of the Center for the Study of Canada, said that the firm has agreed to deposit a total of $90,000 in its endowment fund over the next four years. The Foundation will receive $50,000 this fall, $20,000 in the fall of 1986, and an additional $20,000 in the fall of 1988. Revenues from the fund will be available beginning in the fall of 1985 and Beach said the money will be used to fund scholarships for Canadian Studies majors, library acquisitions, faculty travel and research, and special Canadian-oriented activities.

Foundation President E. Glenn Giltz expressed appreciation to Northern Telecom for the gift. "This is the largest endowment to be established to date by a corporation," he said, "and quite possibly the largest single donation from a Canadian corporation to any Canadian Studies program in the United States. It is a marvelous gesture fostering the growth of Canadian-American friendship and we are very proud that Northern Telecom has chosen to express such generous support for the college.

WOLFE RE-APPOINTED TO CHAIR COLLEGE COUNCIL

Louis E. Wolfe, chairperson of the College Council, has been reappointed by Gov. Cuomo as a member of the Council for a term to expire on June 30, 1993. Gov. Cuomo also re-designated Wolfe as Chairperson of the Council.

The Plattsburgh attorney and former state assemblyman has been a member of the Council since 1976. He was named chairperson of the nine-member body in 1980 by former Gov. Hugh Carey.

President Burke praised the Governor's reappointment of Wolfe. "In my ten years of service to the college and to State University, I have encountered few individuals who display more interest in and enthusiasm for their roles as Council members as Louis Wolfe," said Burke.

"Louis Wolfe," added President Burke, "understands and supports the mission of our college specifically and the State University of New York generally, and he has consistently demonstrated an abiding concern for the educational welfare of our students. I have the utmost respect for his ability and integrity."

The operations and affairs of each state-operated unit of State University are supervised locally by a college council which consists of nine persons appointed for nine-year terms by the Governor. Council members receive no compensation for their services. The Council at Plattsburgh meets about eight times a year.

HALL OF FAME TO INDUCT FIVE AS CHARTER MEMBERS

Three former administrators and two former athletes at Plattsburgh State will become charter members in the Plattsburgh State Hall of Fame during the inaugural Hall of Fame induction ceremonies to be held on Sunday, October 14. The five inductees are Dr. Alice Backus, professor emeritus of health, physical education and recreation; former baseball and basketball star Robert M. Garrow '52; Edward E. "Doc" Redcay, former basketball coach and professor emeritus of psychology; three time All-American swimmer Peter Stone '69; and Edward "Doc" Wiley, former director of athletics and intramurals for men and varsity coach in several sports.

The Hall of Fame, sponsored by the Cardinal Booster Club in cooperation with the college's Office of Alumni Affairs, has been established "to give recognition to individuals who have participated in some way in the college's athletic program and whose achievements and contributions have exemplified the ideals of good citizenship." The inaugural induction event will be a highlight of Homecoming '84 activities at the college.

Bob Wallelt '73, who chairs the Booster Club, explained the election procedure. "Nominations were solicited from alumni, from present and former coaches and from all other members of the college community. Several excellent nominations were received. All of their credentials were then considered by a selection committee comprised of Booster Club members, college administrators, members of the department of health, physical education and recreation, and students.

"The committee considered the contributions made by the nominees to the athletic program at Plattsburgh State," Wallelt continued, "as well as the type of lives they have led since the time of their active involvement. We feel that the five people selected stand as models of exemplary character. We are extremely pleased with our first group of inductees."

ADVANCED WRITING REQUIREMENT ADOPTED; GRADUATION REQUIREMENT RAISED TO 125 CREDIT HOURS

The Faculty Senate, at its May 8, 1984 meeting approved a policy that will require students to take 3 credit hours of advanced level (junior or senior) writing. A specific course (or courses) to meet this requirement will be offered by all departments and will be an integral part of the student's major. As a result of this policy, the minimum requirement for graduation will become 125 credit hours, effective for students as follows:

Freshmen who enter the college beginning in the fall of 1984; transfer students who enter the college with: 18 credit hours or less in spring 1985, 36 credit hours or less in fall 1985, and 54 credit hours or less in spring 1986; and all new students in the fall of 1986. In addition, the policy requires that all students obtain a minimum grade of "C" (2.0) in English Composition (ENG 101). This part of the requirement will be effective for freshmen entering the college beginning the fall of 1984, and all students who enter in the spring of 1985. (Beginning in the spring of 1985 a "C" or better will also be required in English Composition courses offered for transfer credit.)

BUSINESS MINOR APPROVED; APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE

A minor in Business has been approved at Plattsburgh by the Faculty Senate and President Burke and applications and information are available in the Dean of Arts and Science office, Hudson Hall, Room 101. At this time, up to 75 students can be accepted into this program and guaranteed seats in Business courses. Acceptance into the Business minor is based on competitive cumulative grade point average. Applicants must have completed one year of course work at Plattsburgh (24 credit hours) and have achieved a grade of at least "C" in one of the required Business/Economics courses. Applications must be submitted by October 1, 1984.

In addition, a limited number of openings are now available in Business and Economics programs for students at Plattsburgh who wish to major in Accounting, Management, Management Science, Marketing, International Business, as well as Economics and Economics/Business. Applications for acceptance into Business and Economics programs are available in the Dean of Arts and Science office, Hudson Hall, Room 101. Students must submit applications by October 1, 1984. Selection of students into these programs will be based on competitive grade point average.

JAMES KING TO DIRECT SUNY SMALL BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT CENTER

The State University has received a $300,000 matching grant from the Small Business Administration to establish New York State's first Small Business Development Center (SBDC), which will provide a variety of services to private enterprise and small business persons. James King, director of Plattsburgh State's Technical Assistance Center for the past two years, has been appointed as executive director of the newly created program.

The SBDC will be headquartered in Albany and will have regional and outreach centers in the Capital District, and at Plattsburgh, Binghamton, Buffalo and Sanborn. The offices will serve 48 counties within the state. King's appointment was effective in August, but he will continue to work with the Technical Assistance Center on a consulting basis until the search for a new director is completed.

KOKOSZKA APPOINTED TO RESEARCH FOUNDATION BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Dr. Gerald Kokoszka, professor of chemistry, has been named to the Board of Directors of the State University of New York Research Foundation. The appointment was announced in June following approval by the SUNY Board of Trustees. The Research Foundation is a private, not-for-profit educational corporation operating under contract with SUNY. The Foundation administers, on behalf of the University, all externally funded research, training and public service grants and contracts. Those grants and contracts currently total $140 million annually. The Board of Directors is chaired by SUNY Chancellor Clifton R. Wharton, Jr., and comprised of faculty, administrators and several members of the University's Board of Trustees.

Kokoszka, who received his doctorate in chemical physics from the University of Maryland in 1966, joined the Plattsburgh State faculty as an assistant professor in 1968. He was promoted to associate professor in 1970 and to professor in 1973. He was designated a Faculty Exchange Scholar in 1976 and is considered one of the foremost scholars in the field of magnetochemistry.

LANGUAGE PROGRAM ESTABLISHED WITH MONTEREY INSTITUTE OF INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

The Department of Foreign Languages and Literature has instituted a 3/2 Program in partnership with the Monterey Institute of International Studies of California, according to Dr. Raymond Doyle, department chairperson. The program will offer qualified students with career interests in the international field the opportunity to combine the broad scope and soundness of a liberal arts education with specific skills and an integrated view of global perspectives at an institution long renowned for its academic contribution to various international agencies. Participating students will pursue three years of study at Plattsburgh State, completing the entire general education curriculum, with the exception of the integrative component, and the basic major program in Spanish or French. The following two years at the Monterey Institute will be devoted to continued language and culture studies and courses in international knowledge and skills. Upon successful completion of the program at both institutions, students will receive the Bachelor of Arts in Spanish or French and the Master of Arts Degree in International Policy Studies as well as a Translation Certificate for qualified students. Detailed information is available from Doyle at 564-2829.

COLLEGE JOINS NATIONAL FACULTY EXCHANGE

Plattsburgh State has joined the National Faculty Exchange, an organization that coordinates the exchange of faculty and administrators between colleges and universities in the United States, according to Dr. Richard Robbins, associate vice president for academic affairs. Robbins said that the organization brings together faculty from different universities who may wish to spend a semester or year at another college. Approximately 80 colleges and universities are presently members of the Exchange. Further information on the program is available from Robbins at 564-2195.

CONTINUED FINANCIAL AID DEPENDENT ON ACADEMIC PROGRESS

Academic progress will now be monitored after each semester to evaluate students' continued eligibility for federal and state aid programs, according to Suzanne Sokolowski, director of financial aid. Students who fail to complete twelve credits and earn a minimum 2.0 g.p.a. in any semester may be jeopardizing their eligibility for continued federal and/or state aid.

Plattsburgh's Financial Aid Office will be applying two tests to determine continued eligibility for federal Title IV aid. Programs covered by this law include College Work-Study, Guaranteed Student Bank Loan, National Direct Student Loan, Pell Grant, and Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant. The first test coincides with the current college policy on credit hours completed and expected minimum grade point average. The second test calculates the number of credits which must be earned each year based on a minimum time frame of six years of full-time study.

Students who fail to meet the guidelines will be permitted to appeal the decision regarding loss of Title IV eligibility. Students who can document mitigating circumstances will be allowed a one-year probationary period during which time they will still be considered to be making satisfactory progress toward a degree. Students who withdraw during a semester without proof of mitigating circumstances will lose their financial aid for the first semester they return unless they have taken course work at another school which results in their having made academic progress. Students who are initially academically dismissed but readmitted and students on probation will be granted probationary status for one year if they qualify under the mitigating circumstance clause.

Continued eligibility for state aid in the form of TAP and Regents Scholarship awards will also be monitored, but on a different scale. The state standards depend on the number of credits completed in any semester, the total degree credits accumulated, and the gpa achieved as measured against the number of state aid payments already received.

President Burke's Address to Faculty:

VALUE-ADDED PROJECT TO DETERMINE COLLEGE'S IMPACT ON STUDENTS

Last year, I proposed not a new Five Year Plan but a new Planning Process for the next five years. This new Process must match our internal choices with our external circumstances — our internal desires with external demands, if our College hopes to succeed and not just survive in the difficult years that lie ahead for all of higher education. I characterized our future in two words — COMPETITION and CREATIVITY — and insisted that the Process must decentralize planning to ensure the commitment and contribution of everyone on campus. A single purpose must direct this Planning Process — to seek no less than a special status for our College within the SUNY System and all of Higher Education in New York State. This purpose demands the development of a systematic strategy at the College, Division, Center and Department levels that would help us achieve three goals:

- Goal One: To become and be perceived by internal and external groups as the best Comprehensive College in State University.
- Goal Two: To become and be perceived by internal and external groups as an attractive alternative to the large and complex University Centers of State University.
- Goal Three: To become and be perceived by internal and external groups as a high quality, low cost alternative to the private colleges and universities in New York State.

Last Fall, I expressed the belief that these three goals were both attractive and achievable. The planning done in Departments, Centers and Offices during the last year has confirmed this belief.

Pursuit of these three goals required the assessment of the internal and external perceptions of the strengths and weaknesses of our College and each of its Divisions, Centers, and Departments in comparison with competing SUNY Campuses: Our Offices of Institutional Research and Enrollment Management identified our strongest competitors at both the institutional and the programmatic levels. During the course of the year, each Center and Department developed a plan proposing how it intended to become and be perceived as "qualitatively better" than or "distinctively different" from its external competitors. The two Deans of Faculties, the Vice President for Academic Affairs and I read and reviewed each of these plans. Beginning this semester, the Deans, the Vice President and I will meet with every Center and Department to review and refine their plans.

Naturally, our first attempt at Strategic Planning was not perfect. Our information about competing programs on other campuses was incomplete. We also lacked data on the perceptions of accepted applicants who enrolled at other schools, though our Outcomes Studies have gathered a wealth of information on the attitudes of our own students toward this College and its competitors. Our Offices of Institutional Research and Enrollment Management hope to learn more about our competitive situation. They have surveyed attitudes of accepted students who chose other colleges and universities this fall and are currently analyzing the results. We must recognize that information, especially on crucial and complex subjects, is inevitably imperfect. Timely action can never await perfect information.

Though our current information is obviously incomplete, most of the Center and Department Plans made good use of the available data. These plans represent a serious and successful initial effort at assessing the competitive position of each unit and at developing a realistic strategy to make its programs qualitatively better than or distinctively different from those offered at other colleges and universities in New York State. They were surprisingly devoid of defensiveness, though they stressed strengths more than weaknesses. They were surprisingly realistic, though a few assumed additional levels of funding and staffing that seem unlikely. But candor and realism represented the rule rather than the exception in these plans. They exhibited a high level of conscientiousness and commitment from the faculty. They expressed deep concern for the success of the College as a whole and a firm commitment to general and liberal education for all our students. Particularly pleasing were the repeated references to ways of cooperating with other Departments and Centers.

These plans constitute a firm beginning on which to build a five year strategy for the College and each of its components that responds to increased external competition with increased internal creativity. They suggest that our programs are better than others think or even better than we believe. These plans will help us articulate more clearly, both internally and externally, the true quality and distinctiveness of our programs and services.

The greatest difficulty with our New Planning Process stems not from a lack of responsiveness or even from a lack of resources, but from uncertainty concerning the meaning of "quality" and the relationships between departmental strategies and those for the College as a whole. My Speech to Faculty last year lacked a clear definition of "quality" and left a "missing link" between the goals of the College and those of its component units. We need a new meaning of quality that will supply this missing link.

Though academics lament our "materialistic" and "acquisitive" society, we commonly use quantitative measures, or a "resource model," when judging the quality of colleges and universities. Conventional wisdom assumes that the "best" institutions have the most money, the most faculty with the most publications, the most programs with the most courses, and the most freshmen with the highest high school averages and SAT scores. This conventional concept of "quality" demands a "perfect combination" on campus of a few brilliant students (the fewer students, the better), many faculty who write much and teach little (the less teaching, the better) and more resources than the institution needs (the more resources, the better). The "resource model" of assessment assumes that the greater the resources or the "inputs" the better the performance or the product of a college or university. It confuses "quantity" with "quality" and conceives of the operation of a campus, like that of a computer, as merely a matter of good in — good out.

Such an assessment appears alien to academics, for scholars always reject assumptions and assertions and insist on proof and evidence. Quantitative measures of quality focus energies and efforts on the acquisition of resources rather than on their effective use for the development of students or service to scholarship and society. This Resource Model belittles the contribution and creativity of faculty and staff, for it assumes that success or failure depends on what we receive rather than on how we perform. It also clashes with the reality that most, if not all, colleges and universities will have to make the most of what they already have in funds, staff, and students.

The resource model also conflicts with the public's disbelief that quantity funding guarantees quality performance. The current criticism of the quality of elementary and secondary schools, despite increasing costs, demonstrates the need for a new performance-based model of quality for colleges and universities. Institutions of higher education should anticipate that the public will judge our quality on our "outcomes" rather than on our "incomes." External groups will insist on convincing evidence of our "institutional impact" on the students we enroll and the society we serve. They will want to compare the accomplishments of our students when they entered with their improvement in performance by graduation. The true test of "quality" will become the institutional contribution, or the "value added," to the intellectual and personal development of our students. External publics will judge the quality of a college or university not on its capacity to recruit the brightest students and to receive the most resources but on its ability to assist its students to become the best they are capable of being.

Our College has a long lead in Outcomes Studies over colleges and universities in New York State. For over a decade, we have tracked the intellectual, personal, and professional development of our students from their freshman year, through graduation, to alumni status. Our recent Middle States Accreditation Report claims that we have moved much further in this field of assessment than "most other institutions" in the country. Our Outcomes Studies collect student perceptions of their capabilities as entering freshmen or transfers and their expectations for intellectual, professional and personal development from their college experiences. Similar surveys of graduating students and of alumnae measure their sense of growth and achievement during their college years. These surveys supply vital information on the development of our entire student body and on the progress of students in each of our academic programs. In addition, they collect student perceptions of the quality of the services and activities offered on our campus.

Though impressive and important, our Outcomes Studies have a missing link. They rely almost exclusively on student perceptions and lack the more objective data that nationally normed tests could provide on the impact of the College and its academic programs on our students in comparison with that of other institutions throughout the country. We have recently discovered that one institution (the only one so far as we know) has implemented a "Value-Added Assessment" that combines surveys of perceptions with objective tests at the beginning, in the middle, and at the end of the college years. Northeast Missouri State University has developed and evaluated such a system for a decade. Last year, the Value-Added Program at the University won the prestigious Mittau Award from the American Association of State Colleges and Universities. We have studied their program in detail and propose adopting a similar plan for assessment on our campus. Jerry Supple, our Vice President for Academic Affairs, and an ardent advocate for the adoption of such an assessment system, will discuss it further after my talk.

I agree with Jerry that no single step would do more than the adoption of this Value-Added Project to improve and demonstrate the quality of our programs and activities and to make our campus unique among institutions of higher education in New York State. It will say to the state and society that we judge ourselves on the quality of our performance rather than on the quality of our funding. It will say to prospective students that we will help you become the best you are capable of being. We promise to judge ourselves, as well as you — our students — on how much you individually and collectively have grown intellectually, personally and professionally during your college years. Your success or failure will reflect on us as well as on you. This value added concept of quality links inseparably the common efforts of the College and each of its components to help you — our students — perform at the highest level of your ability.

The adoption of a "Value Added" on our campus will challenge our courage and creativity as well as our competitors. It will test us no less than our students, for the tests will tell us as much about our performance as that of our students. Value-Added Assessment will fail miserably if it not only begins but ends with the testing of students. The purpose is not to criticize students but to improve performance — ours as well as theirs. We must be prepared to change our attitudes and approaches, just as we expect students to change theirs, when the test results suggest the need for change. Value-added assessment will require courage, commitment, and creativity from everyone on campus — students, faculty, and staff.

The Value Added concept promises to provide a meaning for quality and the missing link in our Five Year Strategy. It sets a clear and coordinated course for our College and each of its components. It defines the best college and university as the one that contributes the most to its students, to scholarship, and to the society it serves. It meets the dual test of competition and creativity, for it holds the promise of making our College and each of its components both qualitatively better than, and distinctively different from, all of our competitors. The Value Added Program promises much, but only our performance can transform this pledge into a reality.

PARENTS WEEKEND SLATED FOR SEPTEMBER 21-23

Plattsburgh State's Second Annual Parents Weekend will be held September 21-23, and parents of all students have received invitations to attend the weekend activities. On Friday, parents are welcome to visit classes and meet faculty members and administrators. Appointments for those visits should be made prior to that day by students. Parents may join their offspring for dinner in the campus dining halls. From 10 pm to 1 am, a student showcase will be held in the Point.

Saturday's activities will include campus tours (10:30 am till noon), brunch in the dining halls, the Burghy All-Star competition and five workshops. The five workshops available (each will be offered twice) are: "How to Help Your Son or Daughter Make the Most of Their College Experience," by Dr. Eldridge Roark; "Pressures and the Freshman Experience," with a panel of freshmen, RA's and freshman seminar faculty; "SUNY-Study Abroad," by Dr. Jeanne Kissner; "Cooperative Education-Student Work Experience," by Dr. Ann Hasting, and "The Plattsburgh Community," by Chamber of Commerce representatives. Also during the afternoon, the women's volleyball and soccer teams will play matches at home. President and Mrs. Burke will host a reception at 6 p.m. in the Blue Lounge, and a banquet at 7 p.m. in the Ballroom. Comedian and writer Jack Gallagher will provide after-dinner entertainment, and a coffee house sing-along in the Point will conclude the day's activities.

On Sunday, religious services at the Newman Center and local churches will be open to parents and students, and brunch will be available in the campus dining hall.

Faculty members are encouraged to participate in Parents' Weekend and may make reservations by calling the Alumni Office (564-2090). Reservations are necessary for parents to attend any or all meals during the weekend and may also be made in the Alumni Office (Kehoe 803).

DR. ANNETTE MANGANEL APPOINTED TO FOUNDATION BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Dr. Annette Manganel, associate professor in the Center for Teacher Education and Educational Services, has been appointed by President Joseph C. Burke to the Board of Directors of the Plattsburgh College Foundation. Manganel will serve as the faculty representative to the board through the end of January, 1985. She was appointed to replace Dr. Herman Doh, who is currently on leave attending Albany Law School.

Manganel, a member of the Plattsburgh State faculty since 1959, and her husband, Dr. Richard Manganel, who is also an associate professor in the Center for Teacher Education, have been active with the College Foundation for several years. They are members of the President's Club and both serve on the 1984 Faculty-Staff Fund Drive Committee.

ADAMS, BOGUCKI, GRUENDLING AWARDED $49,981 FOR ACID RAIN STUDY

Kenneth Adams, assistant professor, Dr. Donald Bogucki, professor, and Dr. Gerhard Gruendling, professor, from the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, have received a grant from the Environmental Protection Agency in the amount of $49,981 to study the impact of acid rain on lakes and wetlands in the Adirondacks. According to their grant application, the principal objective of the project is "to determine historical patterns of specified land use changes within designated study watersheds which may have altered acidification processes and fish populations in receiving bodies." Specifically, the trio will identify watersheds within the Adirondacks which have been seriously disturbed by clearcutting and wildfire. They will describe these watersheds and will also collect data on the type and intensity of shoreline development in those areas.

This project carries forward work begun by Bogucki and Gruendling several years ago and funded by the Adirondack Park Agency.

THIRTY-ONE JOIN FACULTY AND STAFF

Thirty-one full-time teaching faculty and non-teaching professionals have joined the college's staff this fall. New teaching faculty members and their department or centers include: Dr. Joseph Basile, assistant professor, health education; Dr. Michael Becker, assistant professor, psychology; Ann Marie Begin, lecturer, psychology; Florence Bess, lecturer, foreign language and literature; Dr. James Cockcroft, professor, political science; Jeanette Coleman, director of nursing; Mary Dufort, lecturer, hearing and speech science; Dr. Geoffrey Guest, assistant professor, Center for Human Resources; Stephen Hoar, assistant professor (and hockey coach), physical education; Dr. William Husband, assistant professor, history; Dr. Michael Lacki, assistant professor, Center for Teacher Education; Dr. David Kenoyer, assistant professor, mathematics; Dr. Theodore Lehmann, lecturer, Center for Teacher Education; Dr. James Lindgren, assistant professor, history; Dr. Edward Miller, assistant professor, chemistry; James Nichols, lecturer, PEARS; Dr. Karen Pugliesi, assistant professor, sociology; Dr. Cornell Reinhart, assistant professor, history; Dr. Thomas Rumney, assistant professor, Center for Teacher Education; Kandice Salmone, lecturer, communications; Dr. David Stoloff, assistant professor, Center for Teacher Education; Dona Vaughn, lecturer, Center for Art, Music and Theatre; Dr. Leszek Wielunski, assistant professor, physics.

New non-teaching professionals on campus include: Jacqueline Connelly, counselor, psychological services; Mary Ellen Dallman, assistant to the dean of professional studies; Denise Lacki, financial aids advisor; Noreen Murphy, residence hall director; Irene Nordbrock, technical assistant, computer center; Pauline Premore, technical assistant, nursing; Susan Stevens, technical assistant, payroll; and Clifford Thomas, residence hall director.

NINE PRESIDENTIAL SCHOLARS AMONG FRESHMEN

Included in this year's freshman class are nine students chosen as Presidential Scholars. Those nine were selected solely on the basis of academic merit to receive four-year full-tuition scholarships from the Plattsburgh College Foundation. Dr. David Mowry, director of the campus Honors Program, said that this year's group of Presidential Scholars has a mean high school average of 94.55 and mean combined SAT scores of 1235. This year, for the first time, nominees for the Presidential Scholarships were asked to write an essay to be used in the final selection, and approximately 70 students submitted a response.

COOPERATIVE EDUCATION FUNDED FOR THIRD YEAR

Funding for the third year of Plattsburgh State's Cooperative Education Program has been approved by the U.S. Department of Education in the amount of $97,000. Director Ann Hasting said since the program started in the fall of 1982, nearly 300 students, representing almost all majors at the college, have been placed in paid internship experiences. Student earnings have totaled well over half a million dollars. As a result of their successful co-operative placements, students have been offered permanent employment with companies and agencies such as IBM, Orange and Rockland utilities, the New York City District Attorney's Office, and the Internal Revenue Service. Hasting also said that feedback from employers has indicated strong satisfaction with Plattsburgh State students and their preparation. Hasting reminds students that the Cooperative Education Office is now located on the fourth floor of the Kehoe Building.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION FUNDS EXPANSION OF INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS PROGRAM

The U.S. Department of Education has awarded a $47,806 grant to Dr. Miles Martin, director of the Center for Business and Economics, and Dr. Fouad El Taher, professor, for the "Expansion of Business and International Education Program." The grant will make it possible, according to Martin, to emphasize international business programs in partnership with local businesses and communities. Under the grant, four key activities will be developed, Martin said. First, six new courses will be introduced in the international business curriculum and will be available to both business majors and to employees of local businesses. Second, four weekend seminars on topics of interest in international business will be offered to executives from northeastern New York State. An internship program, which will place ten senior international business majors with international businesses will also be developed. Finally, an export data bank will collect relevant statistics, tax and shipping information as well as international marketing research data. This data bank will be available for use by area businesses. Martin said that two businesses, the Myers Group and Harris Graphics Corporation, have already agreed to participate in all phases of the project.

GORE RECEIVES ADDITIONAL SUPPORT FOR PICTOGRAPHIC SYMBOL PROJECT

Dr. Peter Gore, professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, has received a $12,000 from the Conservation Foundation to further his project of developing pictographic symbols for use with pesticides. Gore began this project last year through a grant from the Consortium for International Crop Protection. Easy-to-understand symbols have been produced, but, according to Gore, have not yet become effective because various agencies and institutions have each adopted their own system. What is needed, he says, is the adoption of a standardized set of symbols for agricultural chemicals by all manufacturers and regulatory agencies. Under this grant, Gore proposes to review all current work on symbolic labeling and collate the best symbols. The symbols will then be taken to the twenty largest manufacturers of agricultural chemicals for review and comments. Based on these comments, Gore said, and a review by the Environmental Protection Agency, a set of symbols will be agreed upon and promoted for use on all agricultural chemical packaging, domestic and for export.

VISUAL ARTISTS SERIES BEGINS WITH VISIT BY PHOTOGRAPHER ROBERT CUMMING

The first Visual Artists Series presentation of the year will feature photographer Robert Cumming, who will present a slide-lecture at 8 pm on Thursday, September 20 in the Angell College Center Cardinal Lounge. Cumming is described as "as visual imagemaker . . . whose photographs derive much of their force and impact from their creator's vivid imagination and sense of humor." He has been an associate professor of art at the Hartford Art School since 1978. Cumming was a Guggenheim Fellow in 1980-81 and has won two National Endowment for the Arts Grants. In addition he was awarded the Frank Logan Prize for Sculpture in 1969. Cumming's lecture is free and open to the public.

GERIATRICS AND GERONTOLOGY INSTITUTE ESTABLISHED ON CAMPUS

An Institute for the Study of Geriatrics and Gerontology has been established on campus for the purposes of serving as a clearinghouse for information and research on geriatrics and gerontology, and coordinating research and program development on issues and problems of aging. A steering committee, comprised of Drs. Ray Domenico, Eleanor Stoller and Taher Zandi, is coordinating Institute activities, in cooperation with the Office of the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs. The next meeting of faculty interested in the areas of geriatrics and gerontology will be held on Friday, September 14 at 4 p.m. in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

CROSS COUNTRY COACH, THREE ASSISTANT COACHES NAMED

A new coach is at the helm of the cross-country and track teams this year. Former Indiana University graduate assistant coach Jim Nichols has replaced Dick Fischer for one year, while Fischer is on a leave of absence in Saudi Arabia. Nichols was a Division II cross country All American and a member of two national championship cross country teams at North Central College in Illinois. During his tenure at Indiana, Nichols helped coach Olympians Jim Spivey and Sunder Nix.

Three assistant coaches for various teams have also been appointed. Brian Riley, a former hockey standout at Brown University and son of Army coach Jack Riley, will assist new Cardinal coach Steve Hoar. Plattsburgh State's 1984 Scholar-Athlete Dom Szambowski is the assistant men's soccer coach, and former Cardinal runner Dave Champagne is assisting Nichols with cross country.

SPORTS UPDATE; WOMEN'S CROSS-COUNTRY TEAM WINS INVITATIONAL

The women's cross-country team won Saturday's St. Michael's Invitational for the second consecutive year, defeating St. Michael's and Potsdam State. Lisa McDougal took first followed by Ellen Kissane in second. Linda Krasensky finished fifth. The men had a tough time in a meet with UVM. Vermont had four of the top five runners to win 18-43. Jim Miller finished fourth for Plattsburgh State.

The men's soccer team scored two goals in four minutes Saturday to salvage a 2-2 tie with Johnson State. Ted Sofianos and Joe Roberts scored for the Cards. Division I Vermont needed one goal to defeat Plattsburgh State 1-0 Wednesday in Burlington. The 0-1-1 booters travel to Siena Saturday.

RPI ripped the Cards 8-1 in men's tennis. Mark Garrand won the number one singles match for the lone Cardinal win. The women netters lost a 5-4 decision to Potsdam State. Randa Khader, Jennifer Sears and Sheila Haley won singles matches, while Khader and Sears teamed up to win a doubles match.

A 3-2 win over New Hampshire College and ties with Plymouth State and Providence gave the Plattsburgh State women's soccer team a second place finish in the Plymouth State preseason soccer tournaments. Darlene LeVeille had two goals in the tournament. The Cards open the regular season Sunday at Cortland State.

FIRST FALL OPEN HOUSE SLATED FOR SEPTEMBER 29

The first Open House for prospective students and parents to be held during the fall semester will take place on campus on Saturday, September 29. Admissions Director Rich Higgins explained the reason for holding an Open House so early during the year. "A visit to campus appears to have a very positive impact on prospective students," he said, "and we believe that bringing these students to campus earlier will increase our application rate."

The Open House activities will begin at 9:30 a.m. with welcoming remarks by President Joseph C. Burke and a representative of the Student Association. Students will be taken to the department of their choice to meet with faculty and students, and later will tour the campus with student guides. During the afternoon, workshops on financial aid opportunities, campus life, and extracurricular activities will be offered.

Tour guides are needed to direct the walking tours of the campus. Anyone interested in volunteering for the activity is asked to attend the tour guide orientation session, which will be held at 6 p.m. on September 26 in the Angell College Center Ballroom.

STUDENTS TO CALL 7,000+ ALUMNI IN THIRD ANNUAL PHONOTHON

Approximately 50 students have volunteered to spend several evenings in September and October on the telephone to benefit the Annual Alumni Fund Drive. Alumni Affairs Director Mal Lavery explained that, beginning next Monday, the students will call between 7,000 and 8,000 alumni asking for a pledge to the fund.

"The results of our first two phonothons were terrific," Lavery said, "and we're looking forward to even greater success this year. The enthusiasm of our student volunteers seems to inspire generosity in our alumni." Last year's phonathon generated a 22% increase in donations and a 33% increase in participation, Lavery said. More than 800 alumni contributed to the scholarship fund for the first time, and the average gift pledged during the phonathon was $25.

This year's phonathon will be conducted from Ward Hall, and Lavery expressed his thanks to Dr. Marilyn Chase and the Center for Human Resources for allowing the group to use that facility.

LOCAL ART PATRONS TO SERVE ON SUNY HONORARY COMMITTEE

Seven Plattsburgh people, all of whom are members of the extended college community, will serve as honorary committee members for the upcoming SUNY art exhibition, "The Educated Eye: Art Collections from State University of New York Campuses." Gallery Director Ed Brohel explained that the exhibition, which will take place in the New York State Museum in Albany next spring, will draw together 380 works of art from the permanent collections of 24 SUNY campuses. A number of works from the Plattsburgh State collections will be included.

The Honorary Committee was established, according to Brohel, to call attention to the generosity of citizens whose personal gifts of art works, time, support and service have helped SUNY campuses build their collections and gallery programs.

Invited to serve were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne H. Byrne, Mr. and Mrs. E. Glenn Giltz, Sally Kent Gorton, and Mr. and Mrs. Nina Winkel.

SUNY TO ASK FOR $$$ FOR PROJECTS TO UPGRADE TEACHER COMPETENCY

SUNY Chancellor Clifton R. Wharton, Jr., announced last week a plan to use the university's resources "to establish a closer working relationship with New York's elementary and secondary schools." Wharton will ask the Board of Trustees to approve more than $800,000 in its budget request for 1985-86 "to support 20 projects at 17 SUNY campuses aimed at upgrading and enhancing teacher competency in area school districts." He said that participating campuses would provide approximately $330,000 in support from their own budgets. The campuses, through seminars, joint appointments, workshops and assistantships, would promote school-college cooperation by helping broaden teacher skills in various ways, particularly in the areas of mathematics, science, foreign languages and computer science.

Plattsburgh State would participate in this project with a series of inservice education programs. Specifically, Plattsburgh would "provide inservice education to teachers in three areas — cell biology, proficiency-based language instruction and computer applications. Workshops in each of these areas will include a member of the teacher education faculty, a subject matter faculty member, and eight teachers. Interested teachers from the workshops will be appointed as adjunct faculty to an appropriate academic department and act in an advisory capacity for curriculum review."

FACULTY AND STUDENTS PLEASE NOTE

Questions have arisen as to whether students may absent themselves from classes to observe a religious holiday. The official college policy is that students who miss class to observe a religious holiday should not have those absences charged against any cuts otherwise allowed by faculty members.

ANTHROPOLOGY SYMPOSIUM PAPERS EDITED BY COHEN APPEAR IN PRINT

Dr. Mark Cohen, professor of anthropology, is co-editor (with Dr. George Armelagos of the University of Massachusetts) of Paleopathology at the Origins of Agriculture, which has been published by Academic Press, Inc. (Harcourt Brace Jovanovich, Publishers). The volume contains revised papers from the Wenner Gren-sponsored symposium which was held on campus in 1982 and which used data from human skeletal analysis and paleopathology to measure the impact on human health of the Neolithic Revolution and antecedent changes in prehistoric hunter-gatherer food economies. Cohen said this volume is the first synthesis of paleopathological data from around the world focusing on changing patterns of health among human populations rather than the diagnosis of particular pathologies or the interpretation of the history of specific diseases. He commented that the book is designed primarily as a reference and source book for scholars and students in the field of economic and ecological prehistory, skeletal analysis and paleopathology, but added that it is readily comprehensible by a reader with only a modest background and a general interest in the issue.

ALPHA CHI RHO FRATERNITY EARNS REWARD FOR GRADES, DONATES IT TO LIBRARY

Members of Alpha Chi Rho fraternity have, for the third time in recent years, won an award from their national chapter for their academic performance. Kevin Volz, chapter president, explained that last year the local members maintained a higher overall grade point average than that for all the men on campus. In recognition of that achievement, the national office of Alpha Chi Rho presented the local chapter with a check for $100. "It's a scholastic prize," Volz said, "so we decided to present the money to the library through the College Foundation." Volz and chapter vice president Daniel Uslan presented the check to the Feinberg Library last week.

Feinberg gift librarian Cynthia Whitacre congratulated the fraternity on its members' academic achievement and expressed the library's appreciation for the gift. Whitacre added that the money will be used to purchase reference books.

SUNY/INDONESIA PROGRAM UNDERWAY; FIVE STUDENTS ARRIVE AT PLATTSBURGH

The $15 million project, designed to increase and improve the training of teachers in Indonesia, is now underway in the SUNY system. The program, agreed to by the government of Indonesia and SUNY nearly a year ago, will ultimately provide master's and doctorate level education to approximately 300 Indonesian students on fifteen SUNY campuses.

Dr. George Maybury, director of the Center for Teacher Education, said that five Indonesian students have arrived on the Plattsburgh campus. The students, all of whom already hold master's degrees will spend 18 months here, working toward an additional master's degree in education. Four will study special education and one will study elementary education. They are being assisted in adjusting to the campus and the community by a group of currently enrolled Malaysian students. The five Indonesian students are Amir Panjaitan, Bakri, Kamud Anggasmita, Abdul Kuddus Muchtar and I Gede Sudira.

LEARNING READINESS CONFERENCE TO FEATURE PHILIP McINNIS

The Center for Teacher Education and the Psychology Department will sponsor a conference on Assured Readiness for Learning on September 21 and 22 at the Howard Johnson Conference Center. Philip McInnis, who developed the Hammondsport Curriculum, will introduce this development program, which was founded with the belief that all children are learners and the word "teach" is an active verb clearly defining responsibility. Conference organizers said that parents, educators, administrators, and anyone interested in the education of children can benefit from the concepts and approaches used in this very successful program.

On Friday evening at 7:30 p.m., McInnis will deliver a public lecture on "Assured Readiness for Learning." The lecture will be given in the Angell College Center Ballroom and all are welcome. For further information on the workshop, contact Anna Nardelli at 564-2122 or Paula Yellin at 564-3076.

SUNY/PLATTSBURGH LECTURE SERIES TO RESUME FOR FALL SEMESTER

The SUNY/Plattsburgh Lecture Series will open its 1984-85 season with a presentation on "Thirty Years of Computing" by Julius Archibald, chairperson of computer science. Dr. William Hartnett, series originator and coordinator, said that the lecture series was designed to provide a local showcase for Plattsburgh's faculty members. "They frequently make scholarly presentations at conferences far from campus," he said, "and the lecture series was intended to allow them to make this type of presentation to their own colleagues and students." Archibald's lecture will take place at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, September 27 in CL 206 and is free and open to the public.

SPORTS UPDATE; VOLLEYBALL TEAM OPENS SEASON WITH WIN

The Cardinal volleyball team won its opening match, 3-0, over Clarkson. The Cards return all starters from last season's 24-6 team.

Plattsburgh State erupted for three second half goals to down Lyndon State 4-0, Wednesday in men's soccer. The Card's are 1-1-1, heading into SUNYAC competition.

The women's cross country team remained undefeated with a 26-29 win over Hartwick. Lisa McDougal and Ellen Kissane finished second and third for the 3-0 Cardinals. The men's squad did not fare as well, losing 26-29 to Hartwick.

Sue Viscomi's soccer team lost a tough 2-1 game to nationally ranked Cortland State, Sunday at Cortland. Darlene LeVielles scored the Cardinal goal.

Wins over St. Michael's and Siena raised the women's tennis team record to 2-1. Jennifer Sears and Diane Heyde won singles events in both matches.

CORRECTION: Drs. Michael Lacki and Thomas Rumney are both assistant professors in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science. Jeanette Coleman, director of nursing, and Mary Ellen Dallman, assistant to the dean of professional studies, have doctorates.

KOKOSZKA RECEIVES NSF GRANT FOR SPECTROMETER

Plattsburgh State is about to join a select group of fewer than a dozen colleges in the United States who own a high frequency magnetic resonance spectrometer, according to Dr. Gerald Kokoszka, professor of chemistry. Kokoszka has been awarded a grant in the amount of $54,000 from the National Science Foundation to purchase the equipment. "Actually, we aren't buying it, we're building it," said Kokoszka. "You can't buy one, you must build it from its component pieces." The spectrometer, Kokoszka explained, is used to study transition metal ion compounds, especially copper, iron, manganese, and cobalt, which are useful models for compounds in biological systems or which are useful in catalytic applications. The equipment, he added, is similar in technique to a NMR spectrometer, which has medical applications. It will be used to further collaborative research activities with industry (3M) as well as government laboratories (Sandia National Laboratories). Kokoszka expects it to be fully operational next summer.

SECOND CANADA-US BUSINESS CONFERENCE SLATED FOR NEXT WEEK

The second in a series of conferences for Canadian and American businesspersons co-sponsored by Plattsburgh State's Center for the Study of Canada and the Business Fund for Canadian Studies in the United States will take place from September 30 through October 2 in Montreal. This year's program will consider such topics as the impact of government deficits, sectoral free trade, government regulations and trade, economic and trade relations, current financial policy and the energy issue. Included on the list of speakers are Dr. James Tobin, Sterling Professor of Economics at Yale University and winner of the Nobel Prize in Economic Science in 1981; Dr. Edward Neufeld, senior vice president and chief economist at the Royal Bank of Canada; and Robert Johnstone, Canadian Consul General in New York City. Paul Robinson, U.S. Ambassador to Canada, will be a special guest at the opening banquet. William Silvey, deputy assistant secretary of the U.S. Department of Energy will also be a featured speaker.

This year's conference will be videotaped and made available to public broadcasting system outlets by WCFE-TV through a special grant from the Business Fund for Canadian Studies in the United States.

HIGGINS WORKING ON PLANNING PROJECT FOR CITY OF BURLINGTON

Dr. Bryan Higgins, assistant professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, is currently working on a major planning project for the City of Burlington. Higgins was awarded a $37,000 grant this summer by the Community and Economic Development Office in Burlington to prepare housing and economic development policies.

Higgins worked in conjunction with Dr. Nicholas Danegilis from UVM on the project, which has been called, "the most in-depth community survey Burlington has ever done on citizen attitudes toward development." The project began with a random sample survey of 320 city residents. Additionally, a survey was published in the city newspaper which could be completed by anyone interested, and more than 30 groups interested in development were also contacted for comment. Following the data collection, Higgins said, a draft of the policy statements was prepared and sent for review to the city's neighborhood planning associations. After review by the City Planning Commission, the plan will be sent to the Board of Aldermen for adoption.

FEINBERG LIBRARY HAS NEW COMPUTER TERMINAL

The Feinberg Library recently installed a new Online College Library Center (OCLC) Model 300 terminal. Library director Robert Burton said the new terminal is a value-added IBM PC, and can be used as both a remote terminal with bibliographic systems via OCLC and a personal computer with the usual applications in word processing, data maintenance or data base searching. Burton said the new terminal promises greater access and flexibility for the staff and users of the library. He added that the library plans to add additional M300's at the projected rate of one a year until all existing terminals, which are more limited in scope, are replaced.

ROBERT MOLL, LONGTIME ASSISTANT TO DEAN, RETIRES

Robert Moll, assistant to the dean of arts and science, has retired. Moll joined the college staff in 1966 as assistant to Dean Harold Perkins. He served as acting personnel director from January to June of 1984, and as interim director of the research office for six months earlier in his tenure at the college. Moll has been active on many college committees, including the affirmative action committee and the open house committee. Prior to coming to Plattsburgh State, Moll served 26 years in the Air Force and retired as a full colonel. His last position with the Air Force was as deputy inspector general of the Eighth Air Force. He had earlier served a brief time as commander of the 380th Bombardment Wing at Plattsburgh Air Force Base. Moll has recently accepted a position as curator of the Air Force Museum on the Air Base.

CARDINAL BOOSTER CLUB CONDUCTING MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Plattsburgh State's Cardinal Booster Club is recruiting new members. Membership co-chairmen Tom Glasgow and John Carpenter said this week that the Club's annual membership drive is underway and will run through the end of October. Last year, the Booster Club enrolled an all-time high of 101 members and generated more than $3,700 in contributions to the organization. This year's goal, according to Glasgow and Carpenter, is to surpass both figures.

The Cardinal Booster Club was founded in 1971. The organization has implemented a Sports Hall of Fame, which will induct its first five members during Homecoming Weekend next month. It coordinates reunion weekends for alumni of the men's basketball and hockey teams, and, each May, it co-sponsors the annual Sports Night Banquet and Recognition Program which honors all Cardinal athletes. Current projects include renovation of locker room facilities at both Memorial Hall and the Field House and development of a newsletter for club members.

Members of the Cardinal Booster Club include alumni, businesses, faculty and staff and other friends of the college who share a commitment to fostering excellence in intercollegiate athletics at Plattsburgh State. It is an affiliate of both the Alumni Association and the Plattsburgh College Foundation. Cardinal Boosters contribute a minimum of $25 annually.

SABBATIC LEAVES APPROVED FOR FACULTY

Eighteen faculty members will be on sabbatic leave for all or part of the academic year. On leave for the full 1984-85 year will be Alice Champagne, nursing; Dr. Jane Gore, Center for Human Resources; Dr. James Johnson, psychology; Dr. John Lewis, physics, Dr. William Penner, Center for Teacher Education; Dr. Lawrence Shaffer, psychology, Dr. Ann Tracy, English, and Dr. Edward Worthen, foreign languages. On leave for the fall semester are Dr. Ron Davis, English; Dr. Dennis Kimmage, Feinberg Library; Dr. Fritz Kissner, Center for Earth and Environmental Science; Dr. Harold Klein, biology; and Dr. Charles Zinser, Center for Earth and Environmental Science. The following faculty members will be on leave during the spring semester: Dr. Charles Mitchell, Center for Teacher Education; Dr. Gordon Pollard, anthropology; Dr. Philip Reines, communications; Michael Stoller, Center for Business and Economics; and Phyllis Wells, Feinberg Library.

VISITING POETS AND WRITERS SERIES TO HOST ALEXANDER TAYLOR

Alexander Taylor, poet, translator from the Danish, editor and publisher of Curbstone Press, will visit the college on Thursday and Friday, September 27 and 28. Taylor will give a poetry reading in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge at 8 p.m. on Thursday. On Friday, he will attend several classes to discuss creative writing and the world of small press publication with interested students.

Taylor is the author of two books of poetry, Zadar and Love is a Terrible Light. He has translated 16 books of Danish poetry and his poetry and translations have appeared in numerous magazines, journals and newspapers. Taylor's visit is sponsored by the English Department's Visiting Poets and Writers Series and Poets and Writers, Inc., and is funded by the Literature Program of the New York State Council on the Arts.

NOTE TO STUDENTS INTERESTED IN GRADUATE WORK AT UPSTATE MEDICAL CENTER

On Wednesday, October 3, the college will host a visit of members of the Admissions staff from SUNY Upstate Medical Center in Syracuse. Lorraine Terracina and Sheila Hurley will meet with interested students, faculty and staff in Beaumont 202 at 1:30 p.m. This will be an informal session for those interested in receiving the most current information about admission to the graduate programs at Upstate Medical Center.

PRE-RETIREMENT SEMINARS SCHEDULED FOR FACULTY AND NTP'S

The Personnel Office and United University Professions are jointly offering a series of pre-retirement planning seminars for Plattsburgh State faculty members and non-teaching professionals. Six weekly sessions will be held on Tuesday evenings beginning October 25. Films, outside speakers and print materials will be available on such topics as pension options, financial planning, legal matters, Social Security, taxes, medical insurance, second careers, leisure, and health. Participation will be limited to 25. Interested persons should contact Anne Mitchell, who is coordinating the series (Feinberg 207). The deadline for registration is September 30.

NOMINATIONS SOUGHT FOR OMICRON DELTA KAPPA MEMBERSHIP

Omicron Delta Kappa, the national leadership honor society, is currently seeking nominations for new members. Juniors, seniors, and graduate students are eligible if they have attained a high standard in leadership activities, are enrolled in a minimum of twelve credit hours and rank academically in the upper 35% of their class (approximately a B average). Faculty and staff members are encouraged to send nominations to Susan Coughlin, ODK President, c/o Cheryl Hogle, Angell College Center Room 110 before October 12.

SPORTS UPDATE; VOLLEYBALL TEAM CONTINUES UNDEFEATED

St. Lawrence and Russell Sage were the latest teams to fall to the Plattsburgh State "Big Red Machine." The machine is women's volleyball and the Cards have a perfect 4-0 match record and have won all 12 games.

Fred Hooper's squad split two road games last week to up the men's soccer team's record to 2-2-1. All-American Donovan Scott scored two goals and Joe Aguirre had a goal and three assists in the Card's 7-3 win over Albany State. Syd DeGroat had the lone Cardinal goal in Saturday's 2-1 loss to Oneonta State. The Cards are 1-1 in SUNYAC play and host Cortland State Saturday at 1.

The women's soccer team also split two games last week, losing to defending State Champion Ithaca, 3-0, and rocking Clarkson, 5-0. The women are 1-2 and will host Union on Saturday, following the men's game.

The women's tennis team raised its record to 3-1 with a 5-4 win over Clarkson.

Mark Garrand and Bill Harrison teamed up to win the consolation round in No. 1 doubles Saturday at Albany State's Great Dane Classic. The Cardinals finished 12th in the 16-team field.

weekly notes

Dr. Theresa Fournier, lecturer in philosophy, made a ten-week tour of Europe, Israel and Egypt this summer. The tour emphasized an interdisciplinary approach to the respective cultures of the ten countries visited. Fournier is willing to speak to campus groups on her experiences (561-0280). . . A presentation on proposed changes in the preparation of teachers given by Dr. Hilton Heming at a conference of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education has been selected by ERIC to be placed on microfiche and distributed to 700 libraries. The presentation has also been abstracted in Education Review. ## ANGELL COLLEGE CENTER TO BE DEDICATED OCT. 13

The George W. Angell College Center will officially be dedicated in memory of the late president emeritus on October 13. The ceremony will begin at 3:30 p.m. and will be held in the plaza between the Angell Center and the Myers Fine Arts Building. In case of rain, the ceremony will be held in the Blue Lounge.

President Burke will preside during the program and testimonials will be offered by individuals with whom Dr. Angell was associated during his tenure as president of the college. Judith L. Duken '59, will represent the SUNY Board of Trustees; Richard W. Lawrence, Jr., chairperson of the College Council from 1968-1971 will represent that body; and Dr. Edward Redcay, dean of the college from 1949-1961, and Willard C. Flynt, vice president for student affairs from 1955-75 will speak for the administration. Other speakers will include Douglas Brown '73, president of the Student Association (1972-73) representing alumni; Dr. Carl W. Engelhart, professor of English, and a member of the faculty since 1951, representing faculty; and Rev. Daniel T. Keefe, former pastor of John XXIII College Community 1970-84, representing the college community.

State Senator Ronald B. Stafford will present a resolution passed by the New York State Legislature on the occasion of Dr. Angell's death and will assist Mrs. Ruth Angell in unveiling the commemorative plaque. Louis E. Wolfe, chairperson of the College Council, will read the plaque inscription. Eric H. Angell, son of the late president emeritus, will speak for the Angell family.

Following the ceremony, a reception in honor of the Angell family will be hosted by President and Mrs. Burke in the Cardinal Lounge of the Angell College Center. Pianist Al D'Lano will perform musical selections which ranked among Dr. Angell's favorites.

Members of the faculty who served under Dr. Angell have received special invitations to attend the ceremony. The program is, however, open to anyone and faculty, staff and students are encouraged to attend.

Dr. Angell was president of the College from 1954 through 1974. During his tenure, the college grew from one with three academic programs, 600 students and 75 faculty members to a $60-million campus having 36 permanent buildings, with a teaching faculty of 299 offering study opportunities in some 50 academic specializations for an enrollment exceeding 4,500 students.

SKOPP APPOINTED TO SUNY HONORARY DEGREE COMMITTEE

Dr. Douglas Skopp has been appointed to the SUNY Statewide Committee on Honorary Degrees by SUNY Chancellor Clifton R. Wharton, Jr. The nomination process for SUNY honorary degrees includes evaluation of all nominations by this committee, which consists of faculty members in the University system appointed by the Chancellor. Dr. Sherry Penney, vice chancellor for academic programs, policy and planning, chairs the committee. Skopp will serve a two-year term.

Skopp joined the Plattsburgh State faculty as an assistant professor of history in 1972, was promoted to associate professor in 1976 and to full professor in 1983. He recently served a year as acting associate vice president for academic affairs and currently chairs the history department. Skopp is a recipient of several SUNY research grants. Last year, he became only the second faculty member to deliver the commencement address.

FOUNDATION'S FACULTY/STAFF DRIVE AT 83% OF GOAL

The newly initiated Faculty/Staff Fund Drive under the auspices of the College Foundation has received pledges and contributions totaling 83% of its goal, as of September 25. This is the first year that Plattsburgh State faculty and staff members have been formally solicited for gifts to the Foundation's Annual Giving Program and, to date, 70 (of about 700) faculty and staff members have pledged or contributed $7,536.

This year's goal for the drive is $9,138. Gifts to date total $4,445 and pledges of $3,091 have also been received. This year the Plattsburgh Credit Union allowed members to pledge to the Foundation through a payroll deduction plan.

Gifts and pledges have primarily been designated for use as student aid or as unrestricted gifts. Smaller amounts have been designated for the library, the Booster Club, home economics, beautification, food and nutrition, travel/research, chemistry, the Center for Human Resources, and the art gallery.

A second appeal will be made this week to those faculty and staff members who have not yet contributed to the campaign. Contributions will be accepted through the end of the calendar year. Drive co-chairpersons are Dr. Bruce Butterfield, associate professor of English, and Dorothy Jackstadt, college registrar.

DR. MONTSERRAT PERALTA RETIRES

Dr. Montserrat Peralta, a member of the faculty of the foreign languages and literature department for 20 years, has retired. Peralta earned her bachelor's degree from the University of Havana in 1949, her master's degree from the University of Illinois in 1958 and her doctorate from SUNY Buffalo in 1981. Prior to joining the Plattsburgh State faculty, she taught in several high schools, at the University of Illinois at Urbana and at Robbins College in Florida. She was appointed to the faculty as an assistant professor in 1964 and was promoted to associate professor in 1982. Peralta coordinated the Spanish section in 1980, served as advisor for the student Spanish club for several years, and was a member of the Student Life Assembly.

RUTH TIERNEY ENDOWMENT FUND CREATED TO AID CAMPUS BEAUTIFICATION

A Ruth Tierney Endowment Fund has been created by Mrs. Tierney's daughter, Judith Tierney, her sister, Mary A. Koehler, and friends in memory of the late college bursar who passed away on May 14, 1984. Mrs. Tierney was employed by the college for 21 years. Income from the $5,000 fund will be used to assist with campus beautification projects, as requested by Mrs. Tierney's daughter.

THREE ART EXHIBITS TO OPEN ON OCTOBER 7

Three art exhibits will open in the campus galleries on October 7, with an opening reception in each area from 2 to 5 p.m. "Selections from the Holly Solomon Gallery" will be exhibited in the Myers Fine Arts Gallery. "Selections" is an exhibition of works from the well known Solomon Gallery in New York City. It includes the works of such artists as Donna Dennis, Izhar Patkin, Kim Mac Connel, Robert Kushner, Brad Davis, Thomas Lanigan Schmidt, Joe Zucker, W. Wegman, Ned Smyth, John Bowman, J. Provisor, N. Africano, and Alexis Smith. The pieces include painting, sculpture, graphics and combinations with fabrics.

An exhibition of decorative bird carvings will be on display in the Rockwell Kent Gallery and a student printmaking exhibit will open in the Myers Fine Arts Lobby. All three exhibits and receptions are free and open to the public.

NEW MUSIC CONSORT TO PRESENT CONCERT ON OCTOBER 9

The New Music Consort, a group of sixteen contemporary music specialists will present a concert at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, October 9 in the Hartman Theatre. The Consort has received critical acclaim for its concerts of twentieth century music and has recently received a special grant from the National Endowment for the Arts for high quality professional arts organizations. Ticket information is available at the Center for Art, Music and Theatre Box Office (564-2283).

SEARCH FOR DIRECTOR OF TEACHER EDUCATION AND EDUCATIONAL SERVICES CONTINUES

The search for a Director of Teacher Education and Educational Services, begun last spring, is continuing, according to Dr. Nicholas Troisi, dean of professional studies and chairperson of the search committee. Dr. George Maybury, who originally announced his retirement effective last spring, will remain as director through the end of the fall semester. Troisi said candidates are being interviewed through the fall and added that the committee hopes to make a selection by the beginning of the second semester. Members of the search committee are Maybury, Paul Hackett, Dr. Annette Manganel, Dr. Charles Mitchell, and Dr. Mary Anne Poston.

BOOKS AND SUPPLIES COST ABOUT THE SAME AS TRANSPORTATION TO AND FROM SCHOOL

A recent article in the "NACS Weekly Bulletin," the official newsletter of the National Association of College Stores, compared the percentage costs of various items in a college student's budget. The item compared total costs of private and public four- and two-year colleges, then broke those total costs into percentages spent. Tuition, fees, and room and board costs were the major items within the budget, as might be expected. The comparison also showed that students spend approximately the same amount of money to purchase books and supplies as they do to provide transportation to and from the campus during the year.

	PRIVATE		PUBLIC

SPORTS UPDATE; WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL TEAM REMAINS UNBEATEN

The Plattsburgh State women's volleyball team continued to live up to its national billing last week with a sweep of five matches at the Potsdam Invitational Tournament. The Cards defeated Clarkson, St. John Fisher, Hamilton, RPI and Potsdam State. The team's record stands at 9-0, with wins in all 22 individual games. The team's record goes on the line Thursday night when the Cardinals travel to Albany for a game with perennial power Albany State.

The Cardinal women harriers won the Cardinal Classic Cross-Country meet, defeating St. Michael's, Potsdam State and John Abbott. The men finished second to St. Lawrence in the five-team men's race. Ellen Kissane won the women's race for the Cards, covering the 3.4 mile course in 22:32. Linda Krasensky (22:53) and Amy Wilmarth (23:34) finished third and fifth respectively for Plattsburgh State. Dean Diltz was the top Cardinal finisher in the men's race with a third place time of 27:03 for the 5.1 mile course.

After a 1-1 tie with St. Lawrence, the women's soccer team exploded for a 6-0 win over Union College. Mary Ellen Wisotzke had two goals in the Union game. The Cards are 2-2-1.

Fred Hooper's squad lost a tough 2-0 game Saturday to nationally-ranked Cortland State, after downing St. Lawrence 3-2 on Wednesday. The booters are 3-3-1 and 1-2 in SUNYAC play, with SUNYAC games this week with Potsdam and Binghamton.

Wins over St. Michael's and St. Rose have lifted the women's tennis team to a 5-3 record, matching the Cards win total for last season. The men's team won its first match with a 5-4 win over St. Michael's.

RECORD NUMBERS EXPECTED AT HOMECOMING THIS WEEKEND

Record numbers of alumni and community residents are expected to attend Homecoming activities this weekend. Alumni Affairs Director Mal Lavery said Tuesday that two very special events appear to be attracting more alumni to the campus. Those two events are the formal dedication of the George W. Angell College Center, slated for 3:30 p.m. on Saturday, October 13 and the Hall of Fame Induction Ceremony and Brunch at 9:30 a.m. on Sunday.

The weekend will begin early for students who will crown their king and queen Thursday. Friday evening, alumni will begin returning to campus and will meet their classmates and friends at a buffet in the Orchard Room.

Saturday's activities will kick off at 10 a.m. with the annual Homecoming Parade. The theme this year is "Plattsburgh State Discovers America." The parade begins at Plattsburgh Plaza and will march down Cornelia to Margaret, then up Broad, over South Prospect and down Rugar to Memorial Hall. Following the parade, trophies will be awarded for floats and the President's Cup will be presented. Alumni will continue their activities with reunion class luncheons for the honored classes (those from years ending in 4 or 9).

Alumni, students, faculty and community members will join together to honor the late president emeritus at 3:30 p.m. as the Angell College Center is dedicated. Following the ceremony, a reception will be held in the Cardinal Lounge.

Home economics alumni and students will honor Louise Norton, the founder of the college's home economics program, at a reception at 4:30 p.m. in Ward Hall. Other faculty emeriti will also be recognized. The day's activities will conclude Saturday evening with a reception and dinner dance for alumni in the Angell College Center and a semi-formal dance for students at the field house.

Tickets for the Alumni Dinner Dance and Hall of Fame Brunch may be purchased until 4:30 p.m. Friday at the Alumni Office (Kehoe 803). Tickets will NOT be available at the door for either event.

Welcome Back Alumni

STUDENT ASSOCIATION TO VOTE ON EXEC VP, CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGE

The Student Association will hold a two-part election Thursday, October 11 in the Angell College Center from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. SA members will be voting for a new executive vice president and a revised constitution.

Brad Bach will be running against Anthony D. Weiner for the executive vice president position that was vacated when Spencer Weisbroth became SA President. Bach, a senator, is acting executive vice president. Weiner is also a SA senator. The term expires December 31.

The constitutional changes are basically to remove sexist language and rework the student court to become entirely elected. Copies of the changes will be available at the polling place.

SUNY TRUSTEES VOTE ON INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETIC RESOLUTIONS

The SUNY Board of Trustees last week unanimously approved the establishment of "athletic boards of control" on SUNY campuses to supervise intercollegiate sports. At the same time, the Board disapproved resolutions that would have permitted athletic scholarships for students and the institution of special student athletic fees.

Approval of the athletic boards of control will place the University in compliance with the regulations of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, which require such boards be comprised of at least 51 percent representation by campus faculty and administrative staff. Plattsburgh already has such a board, the Intercollegiate Athletic Board, in place.

By a vote of 7 to 3, the SUNY Trustees rejected a resolution that would authorize the establishment of a separate student athletic fee for the support of intercollegiate athletics at the State-operated SUNY campuses. At present, athletics are supported in large part by funds raised annually from a student activity fee on each campus. Students determine each year how much of their fee should be used for intercollegiate athletics and for which sports.

Finally, the Board voted 8 to 2 to reject a resolution that would have authorized a change in present Board policy that prohibits the awarding of grants in aid, or scholarships, on the basis of athletic ability.

FLOWERS BY JEFF, CITY FLORISTS DONATE PLANTS FOR ADMISSIONS OFFICE

Two area florists have contributed plants to be placed in the recently renovated Admissions Office lounge area on the tenth floor of the Kehoe Building. Jeffrey Mostyn of Flowers and Gifts by Jeff and Ruth Deon of City Florists each contributed two large plants, which have added to the attractiveness of the area. President Burke commented, "We are pleased with the new furnishings and with what had been accomplished in renovations. At the same time, however, we sensed that something was missing that would contribute to the 'homey' atmosphere we most wanted to achieve. (This) gift . . . has shown us what indeed was needed to create the mood we want to prevail in this suite of rooms."

PROBERT TO GIVE RECITAL ON SUNDAY

Richard Probert, director of the Center for Art, Music and Theatre, will give a recital Sunday, October 14 at 3 p.m. in the Hartman Theatre. Probert, accompanied by pianist Kathryn Stuart, will sing a variety of art songs and folk songs. Probert commented, "I sing recitals because it is my way of keeping in touch with my own art and the demands it places upon me. That way, I don't lose sight of what we as artists and teachers expect of ourselves and of our students." In addition to singing recitals, Probert has sung the bass/baritone roles of most of the well-known oratorios. He is also a conductor and currently conducts the Choral Arts Society.

COLLEGE TO CELEBRATE ELEANOR ROOSEVELT CENTENNIAL OCTOBER 11

In celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Eleanor Roosevelt, native New Yorker, world citizen and unflagging worker for world peace and human rights, the Women's Studies Program, History Club, Department of History and Feinberg Library have planned several activities on the centennial day, October 11.

Feinberg Library will open an exhibit of books, photographs and memorabilia related to Mrs. Roosevelt. The exhibit will be on the second (main level) of the library. The Women's Studies Forum, held from 12:15 to 1:00 p.m., will feature a showing of the just released video "Eleanor Roosevelt: The U.N. Years," which details her vital presence at the U.N. and her important role in passage of the International Declaration of Human Rights. The videotape, produced by the Institute for Research in History and the Organization of American Historians, will be shown and commented on by Dr. Esther Katz of the Institute, who served as coordinator of the Eleanor Roosevelt Centennial Project. At 6:30 p.m. a cash-bar reception for Dr. Katz will be held in the Angell College Center. Immediately following the reception, Dr. Katz will address the History Club at its Annual Banquet in the Orchard Room. Ticket information is available from the History Department Office at 564-2213. These events are open to the public.

JUNE JORDAN TO BE FEATURED GUEST ON BLACK POETRY DAY

Poet June Jordan will be the featured speaker on campus on Black Poetry Day (October 17). Jordan will speak at 7:30 p.m. in the Angell College Center Ballroom. Copies of several of her books will be available for purchase and autographing and a reception will follow her program.

Jordan's best known books include Passion and Things That I Do in the Dark, both collections of poetry; Civil Wars, a collection of political essays; and Kimako's Story, a book for children. She has also written eight other works of poetry, fiction and biography, a number of them for young people. She is currently a professor of English at the State University of New York at Stony Brook.

Black Poetry Day was established to recognize the contributions of Black poets to American life and culture and to honor Jupiter Hammon of Long Island (born October 17, 1711), who was the first Black American to publish his own verse. The local program is sponsored by the Clinton-Essex-Franklin Library System in cooperation with Plattsburgh State.

TUESDAY REFLECTIONS TO PRESENT MARTINE DE ROUGEMONT ON MOLIERE

"Moliere's Problem Plays: Le Misanthrope, Tartuffe, Dom Juan" is the topic of the next Tuesday Reflections presentation, which will take place at 4:15 p.m. on October 16 in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge. Dr. Martine de Rougemont, professor at the Sorbonne and former director of the Institute d'Etudes Theatrales, will be the featured speaker. De Rougemont is a visiting professor at the University of Montreal this semester.

SPORTS UPDATE; WOMEN'S SOCCER TEAM WINS TWO

Sue Viscomi's women's soccer team racked up 9 goals, while allowing zero, in winning two games last week. The Cards downed RPI 5-0 and Skidmore 4-0 in impressive road wins. Darlene LeVielle had three goals against Skidmore. The 4-2-1 Cardinals have played 380 consecutive minutes without giving up a goal.

Fred Hooper wishes his men could have had similar luck; however, the Cards had to score twice in the final 15 minutes to beat Potsdam State 2-1, and Binghamton pounded the booters 4-0 in Binghamton. Plattsburgh State is 4-4, with Johnson State forfeiting an early season tie.

The women's cross country team behind the sixth place finish of Ellen Kissane took third place at the LeMoyne Invite. Ithaca College won the 10-team meet with 31 points. Linda Krasensky was 16th and Sheri Freeman finished 19th. The men's squad finished well back in the 20-team men's side of the same meet. Dean Diltz was the Cardinal bright spot, finishing 13th in 26:41 for the five-mile course.

Plattsburgh State came up short in a battle of two of the top New York State Division III women's volleyball teams. Albany State fought off a tough Cardinal squad, 9-15, 15-17, 16-14, 11-15, to raise its record to 12-3. Plattsburgh State is 9-1 with the Oneonta Invitational this weekend.

The women's tennis team dropped two close matches to Middlebury and St. Lawrence. The team is 5-5 with the SUNYAC Tournament this weekend in Rochester.

CAMPUS SEFA DRIVE UNDERWAY; GOAL SET AT $26,000

The goal of the Plattsburgh State portion of the 1985 State Employees Federated Appeal (SEFA) Drive has been set at $26,000, according to Mayerlyn Miller, who is coordinating the on-campus drive. Miller said the campus campaign officially kicked off on Monday and will run through October 29. Each department and office has a team leader who will soon be contacting faculty and staff for their pledges and contributions. In addition, an information table is now set up in front of the Angell Center Orchard Room where interested faculty and staff may obtain pamphlets on most of the agencies participating in the SEFA drive.

SEFA was instituted at the request of state administration to concentrate the fund-raising efforts of state employees into one campaign for all. Included under the SEFA umbrella are United Way agencies, national health agencies, and international agencies. Miller explained that gifts may be designated for any combination of one or more agencies or groups or may be undesignated. Undesignated gifts will, to a large extent, be shared among local service agencies. Miller also said there are three ways of giving. Employees may make an outright cash donation, may choose to be billed directly or may participate in a payroll deduction plan.

"Everyone's life has been touched in some way by at least one of these agencies," Miller commented, "whether it's through a daughter who's a Brownie, or a friend with heart disease. The SEFA drive gives us an opportunity to give something back in order to help someone else."

CAMPUS WORK STUDY JOBS AT 398 THIS SEMESTER

Nearly 400 students are receiving financial aid through work-study jobs this semester, according to Laura Dominy, coordinator of the campus work-study program. The college currently receives approximately $400,000 annually through state and federal sources to fund the work-study program. Dominy explained that the number of work-study jobs available has decreased over the last few years, and some faculty and offices are no longer able to obtain a work-study student. "Since 1978-79, when we had 650 positions," Dominy said, "we've seen a considerable decline. The increase in the minimum wage from $2.10 to $3.35 has cut the number of students we could hire. In addition," she said, "we have made a commitment to giving each eligible student a minimum of six hours of employment each week."

In order to deal with the decline in the number of work-study jobs available, Dominy said, her office has made an effort to place the students in areas on campus which serve the greatest number of people. The library, for instance, has received a full complement of work-study positions and has thus been able to extend its hours. The Angell College Center and Maintenance and Operations have also been areas targeted for the positions. "We wish we could give everyone the students they ask for," Dominy concluded, "but the money only stretches so far."

ALPHA CHI RHO SWEEPS HOMECOMING AWARDS

The brothers of Alpha Chi Rho fraternity had a very successful Homecoming Weekend this fall. The fraternity won both the President's Cup, awarded to the Greek organization for outstanding service to the community, and the Scholastic Cup, presented to the fraternity or sorority with the highest overall grade point average. In addition, Alpha Chi Rho cooperated with Theta Alpha Lambda to produce the best overall float in the Homecoming parade. The float was titled "Space Shuttle Discovery." Other float awards were: Residence Halls — 1. DeFredenburgh, "Greyhound Bus"; 2. Commuter Club, "Burghy Takes a Road Trip"; and 3. Hood Hall, "Singing, Wild West, Moon Landing." Alpha Phi Gamma and Sigma Pi combined to produce "USAF Jet," which won first place for Greeks, and Pi Alpha Nu's "Discovery at Kitty Hawk" placed second in that category.

SPECIAL ELECTION; BACH ELECTED S.A. EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Brad Bach was elected Student Association executive vice president in a special election held Thursday. A referendum to change the Student Association Constitution fell far short of the required 580 votes to pass. Bach received 101 votes to A. D. Weiner's 51. There were several write-in votes. The referendum vote received 148 yes votes to 36 no votes. Bach will complete the final two months of Spencer Weisbroth's term of office. Weisbroth replaced former S.A. President Christine Sloben who resigned in August.

GAMMA THETA UPSILON INDUCTS EIGHT

The Epsilon Omega chapter of Gamma Theta Upsilon, the national geography honor society, inducted eight new members recently. Membership in the honor society is based on attaining academic excellence in geography courses. Those inducted as full members included Michael Bevington, Michael Derwin, Elton Dise, Barton Hose, Mary Kopaskie, and James Moss. In addition, Andrea Daly and Thomas Driscoll were inducted as associate members.

MATH CONSORTIUM TO MEET ON CAMPUS ON SATURDAY

Mathematics professors from colleges within a 100-mile radius of Lake Champlain have been invited to attend the Fifth Meeting of the Champlain Mathematics Consortium to be held on campus on Saturday. Dr. Edward Dubinsky, director of the Institute for Retraining in Computer Science at Clarkson University, will address the group on "Use of Computer Experience in Teaching Abstract Mathematical Concepts" during the morning session. In the afternoon, Professor Patrick Fleury will discuss "Properties of Rings Inherited by Idealizer Subrings," Dr. Robert Hofer, who chairs the mathematics department, will give "A Brief Introduction to Near-rings," and Dr. Jack Riley, professor, will discuss "Partial Algebras."

SUNYA WOMEN'S STUDIES DIRECTOR TO BE GUEST SPEAKER ON CAMPUS

Dr. Bonnie Spanier, director of Women's Studies at SUNY Albany, will be a guest on campus on October 24 and 25. On Wednesday, she will meet with students and faculty in Beaumont 432 from 2 to 4 p.m. At 5 p.m., she will talk on "Women's Participation in the Sciences: Past, Present and Future," in Hudson Hall 106. Thursday morning from 9:30 to 11 a.m., Spanier will be available to meet with students and faculty in the Women's Studies Office in Redcay Hall. At 12:15 p.m., she will be the guest speaker at the Women's Studies Forum in the Cardinal Lounge, and will discuss "Gender Balance in a Curriculum with Emphasis on the Natural Sciences." Spanier received her doctorate from Harvard with training as a molecular biologist. She has done research on women in science and the social study of science. Her visit is co-sponsored by Women's Studies, the biology department, the dean of arts and science, Campus Life, the SUNY Faculty Exchange Program, and the Faculty Development Program at Wellesley College, Center for Research on Women.

ENVIRONMENTAL ACTION COMMITTEE SPONSORS CLEANUP DAYS

The Environmental Action Committee reports that a very successful Saranac River "Clean-up Day" was held last Saturday, with Plattsburgh State students and local residents cooperating on the project. The EAC will hold another clean-up day this Saturday. The group will meet at 10 a.m. in front of Memorial Hall and will focus their efforts on three areas, Brinkerhoff Street, Court Street, and the mouth of the Saranac River near the MacDonough Monument. Everyone on campus and in the community is invited to participate.

MOVIE ON EL SALVADOR TO PREMIERE ON CAMPUS ON THURSDAY

"In the Name of the People," a documentary film about life in the "liberated" zone behind guerilla lines in El Salvador, will be shown at 7 p.m. on Thursday, October 18 in CL 200. Dr. William Culver, chairperson of the political science department, said that the Plattsburgh State screening will be the world premiere of the film. The film presentation is co-sponsored by the Latin American Studies program, the history department and the political science department. It is free and open to the public.

PSUC TO HOST VISITING BRITISH SCHOLARS IN SPRING '85

Two visiting British scholars will join the Department of English at PSUC for the spring term of 1985: Dr. Norman Vance, lecturer in English at the University of Sussex, and Dr. Brenda Richardson, lecturer in English at The Queen's University of Belfast. Vance, a scholar in the Victorian period, has published extensively in this field as well as in Anglo-Irish literature and in literature and theology. His study of the Victorian conception of manliness will soon be published by the Cambridge University Press. Dr. Vance has lectured at various English universities and was a Visiting Lecturer at the University of Ottawa in March 1983 and addressed the Canadian Association of Irish Studies Conference in Halifax, Nova Scotia. He is a leading member of a group of Irish historians in England. At PSUC, Dr. Vance will offer courses on Victorian Writers, The Popular Thriller in England and America, and the Bible and Modern Literature. Dr. Richardson's expertise lies in Renaissance and 18th century literature. She has published and lectured on Shakespeare, Spencer and Milton, and on Anglo-French literary relations during the Renaissance. She will teach Introduction to Drama at PSUC. Both scholars will offer several public lectures while at the College.

GET READY FOR ADVISEMENT

The advisement and course selection period for the spring semester begins on Monday, October 29th and continues through Tuesday, November 13th. Students should schedule early appointments with their advisors and do some planning (review the Master Schedule) prior to their meeting. Those students with a G.P.A. of less than 2.0 should ask their advisors about the academic probation guidelines. Students may turn in their completed registration cards beginning October 29th in the College Center lobby. All registration cards must be turned in by Tuesday, November 13th. After all cards are collected, the students will be registered by class priority. Students are urged to indicate alternate class sections, and to select alternate courses at the time they register.

Questions concerning advisement, or academic policies and procedures, can be directed to Tom Corigliano, Coordinator of Academic Advisement, A-314, phone 2192. Questions regarding the registration process can be directed to Daui Woodin, Assistant Registrar, A-304, phone 2095.

SPORTS UPDATE; WOMEN'S TENNIS TEAM ENDS SEASON WITH WINNING RECORD

The women's soccer team split two games last week, losing to Division I Vermont 2-1 and beating Plymouth State, 2-1. Plymouth was ranked fifth in New England Division II/III. Barb Abigail and Emily Sickler had goals in the Plymouth game for the 5-3-1 Cardinals. The women have added home games with Lyndon State (Oct. 26 - 3 p.m.) and McGill (Oct. 27 - 1 p.m.).

The women's volleyball team lost in the semifinal of the Oneonta State Tournament to Oneonta. The Cards had a rough week with a 3-4 record, dropping to 12-5 overall.

Fred Hooper's squad was blasted 4-1 by RPI last week in Troy. The Cards drop to 5-5. All-American Donovan Scott will miss the rest of the season with a knee injury.

Two years ago the Plattsburgh State women's tennis team didn't win a match. With two wins last week, this season's squad finished the regular season with a 7-5 record. Randa Khader, Kelly Penfield, Diane Heyde and Jennifer Sears contributed to the winning season.

FORENSIC TEAM TO HOST SOUTH-OF-THE-BORDER TOURNAMENT THIS WEEKEND

The college's forensic team will host its 14th annual tournament this weekend, kicking off the fifth season of Northeastern Forensic League competition. Approximately 20 colleges are expected to send teams. Montanaro said that Plattsburgh State's team, except for five returning veterans, is comprised of novices. "It's a fairly talented group," he said, "but, in all likelihood, they will not hit their stride until the end of the semester." Competition will be held in Myers, Yokum and the Angell College Center from 10:30 a.m. till 8 p.m. on Saturday and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

COLLEGE MEETS 1984 ENROLLMENT GOAL

The college has met its fall, 1984 enrollment goal, according to figures released this week by the Office of Institutional Research. The official fall, 1984 headcount stands at 6,044, up from last fall's figure of 5,917. This figure includes full- and part-time graduates and undergraduates.

SUNY enrollment figures released last week showed a system-wide decline of 9,418, or 2.48%. For the state-operated campuses, the decline was 2,209 students, or 1.14%.

Plattsburgh's successful effort, according to President Joseph C. Burke, was the result of increases in both the retention rate (the number of returning students) and the yield rate (the number of accepted students who actually enroll). Burke added that the quality indicators (high school averages and standardized test scores) for this year's freshman class were very similar to those of last year's freshmen.

Despite the increased enrollment this year, Burke said, the college plans to decrease its enrollment projections over the next few years. The reasons for this are threefold, the president said. First, the planned decline will bring the college's enrollment into line with the staffing reductions of the last few years. Second, the projected decrease reflects the large and continuing decline of high school graduates in the state through 1994, and last, the decrease will allow the college to maintain high admission standards. "We will not lower our admission standards," Burke commented. "We are committed to maintaining our level of quality."

ACADEMIC CALENDAR COMMITTEE MAKES RECOMMENDATIONS TO FACULTY SENATE

The Academic Calendar Committee, chaired by Dr. Leonard Fontana, has completed its work and is submitting its recommendations to the full Faculty Senate for consideration. During its deliberations, the committee considered the following issues: the educational value of vacation breaks; the coordination of the college calendar with the BOCES calendar; the coordination of faculty, staff and student holidays; the financial hardships imposed on students as a result of vacation breaks; observance of religious holidays; and the desirability of two summer sessions. The committee's recommendations include starting the academic year on Wednesday following Labor Day, making the Columbus Day Weekend a four-day break, changing Thanksgiving recess from a week to five days, adding a week-long break in February, and changing the spring break to a week at Easter time rather than two weeks encompassing St. Patrick's Day. The various recommendations would take effect over a two-year period. The Faculty Senate will discuss the recommendations at its November 13 meeting. Faculty and staff members wishing to express an opinion on the recommendations should contact their Faculty Senator prior to that meeting.

PSYCHOLOGY HONOR SOCIETY INDUCTS THIRTY

Psi Chi, the national honor society of psychology, has inducted thirty new members. Each initiate has met high standards of academic excellence and has shown high performance in the field of psychology. Students who have joined as national members are: Nancy Asdigian, Tara Barrett, Donna Black, Donna Bologna, Barbara Fribourg, Julie Gloor, Michele Goldsmith, Patricia Hauk, Charles Hensler, Timothy Herbs, Karen Johnson, Marc Julian, Jan Lemza, Deborah Linnard, William Mattar, James Miner, Johanna Moon, Timothy Pavlick, Cheryl Pisarski, Pamela Raudenbush, Mikelene Ray, Deanna Richey, Tracy Robinson, John Shannon, Maurice Jean Stewart, Ailene Tretter, and Laurie Wanser. Joining as associate members are: Larry Nadler, and Kristi Watts.

DEBATERS TAKE FIRST; FORENSIC TEAM IS THIRD IN PSUC TOURNAMENT

Plattsburgh's debaters finished first in last weekend's home forensic tournament. The team of Mary Maloney and Deanna DeBrine compiled a 6-0 record to best teams from St. John's University and SUNY Albany. Maloney placed third overall in debate speaking. In individual events, Debbie Pacyna took a third in pentathlon competition, breaking into finals in four events, and winning two of three events. Overall, the Plattsburgh team placed third in the 15-team field, behind St. John's and Suffolk.

OCTOBER 26 IS CANADA DAY

The Annual Canada Day celebration has been scheduled for Friday, October 26, and several activities have been planned. The film, "Music and Dance of the Mohawks," will be shown at noon in CL 200. Two seminars will be held from 2:30 to 4 p.m. "Canada and the Caribbean: After Grenada and the 1984 Canadian Elections," will be held in the Cardinal Lounge, with guest speakers, Dr. Gerald Tucker of Bishop's University and Dr. Michel Mills, a specialist in Caribbean and Third World Development. The panel will be moderated by Dr. Stuart Voss. At the same time in the Ballroom, Drs. Peter Summers, Tom Brydges and Alex Manson, all Canadian environmental specialists, will discuss "Acid Rain in the United States and Canada: Problems and Prospects." Dr. Donald Adams will moderate this panel. The Mime Ensemble of Canada will perform at 7:30 p.m. in Hawkins Hall Auditorium. All events are free and open to the public.

STAY HEALTHY DAY SCHEDULED FOR NOVEMBER 1

All New York State employees have recently received a Personal Risk Profile as part of the "Stay Healthy — It Pays" program. The program, sponsored on campus by the Personnel and Affirmative Action Office, is being coordinated by student interns Debra Bowen and Donna Bologna. The coordinators explained that employees should complete the Personal Risk Profile and mail it to the address indicated. The profiles are completely confidential and individual results will be made available only to the individual. November 1 has been designated "Stay Healthy Day," and blood pressure checks and blood tests will be available in the Amnesty Room. Appointments must be made for those tests, by calling 800-237-1009.

FABULOUS FEINBERG BOOK SALE SET FOR SATURDAY

The Fourth Annual Fabulous Feinberg Book Sale will be held on Saturday, October 27 from noon until 5 p.m. in the hallway outside the Special Collections area. Librarian Cynthia Whitacre said, "This year, we have many low-priced books in history, political science, and science, as well as a huge selection of fiction, many biographies and an assortment of popular periodicals. In addition, we will have a special group of rare books and fine bindings. Subject and materials included are Civil War, Americana, local history, Adirondackiana, literary sets, travel and architecture. We also have bound volumes of the New York Times from the 1850's and 1860's." Proceeds from the book sale go toward the purchase of books for the Feinberg Library.

'TARTUFFE' TO OPEN OCTOBER 31

The Center for Art, Music and Theatre-sponsored presentation of Moliere's "Tartuffe" will open for an eight-performance run on October 31. The production is directed by Charles Kline, with scene design by Timothy Palkovic, costume design by Ruth Kline, technical direction by R. Mitchell Fore, lighting design by Timothy Palkovic and Nancy Wernick, and music selection by Alan Frank. Students in the cast include Barbara Metz, Tracey Lynne Girdick, Claude Heintz, Kaarina Brown, Leslie Day, Jennifer Andersen, Timothy Carosi, Martin Margolis, Lawrence Keller, Bruce Armstrong, Rick Woodside, Troy Lopez, Barry Brown, and Deborah Farbach. Tickets are available at the Hartman Theatre Box Office.

'CHRONICLE' ARTICLE POINTS OUT ADVANTAGE OF COLLEGE EDUCATION

An article in a recent edition of the "Chronicle of Higher Education" presents a compelling reason as to why students should graduate from college. The article reads, in part, as follows, "The unemployment rate for college graduates of age 25 to 64 (according to the U.S. Department of Labor) was 2.7%, based on a March survey. The rate for those with one to three years of college was 5.3% and for high-school graduates, 7.2%. Of those who were working, 2/3 of the male college graduates and 71% of the female graduates held managerial or professional jobs. For workers with one to three years of college, the comparable figures were 25% for men and 28% for women. About 12% of high-school graduates had professional or managerial jobs."

SPORTS UPDATE; WOMEN TAKE SECOND IN SUNYAC CROSS-COUNTRY CHAMPIONSHIPS

The women's cross country team, behind the second place finish of Cardinal Ellen Kissane, took second in the SUNYAC Championships Saturday at the Field House. Linda Krasensky finished eighth for the Cards. Cortland won the 11-team race. The men harriers did not fare as well, finishing seventh despite a fifth place finish by Cardinal Dean Diltz. Albany State won the race, edging six-time defending SUNYAC champion Fredonia.

Sue Viscomi's soccer team continues to move toward a playoff invitation. The Cards won twice last week, defeating St. Michael's 2-0 and Albany 3-1. Darlene LeVielles scored once in each game and Mary Ellen Wisotzke had two goals against Albany. The women are 7-3-1 with four regular-season games to play.

The men's soccer team lost its third and fourth in a row last week. St. Michael's won 4-1 and Union blasted the Cards 10-1. Fred Hooper's squad is 5-7.

The Cardinal tennis team each set all-time standards at the SUNYAC Tennis Championships. The men finished fifth with number one singles player Mark Garrand losing in the semifinals to the eventual champion. Bill Harrison and Anthony Weiner each won consolation titles.

The Cardinal women finished fourth, one point behind third place Buffalo. Diane Heyde, Sheila Haley, and Lia Gaguro made it to semifinal play in both singles and doubles. Kelly Penfield teamed with Heyde to reach the semis at number one doubles.

The Cardinal spikers defeated Potsdam, Siena, Clarkson and Keuka, while losing to Oswego in a busy week. The Cards are 16-6 with three regular season matches remaining.

SUNY REQUESTS $23.8 MILLION FOR PLATTSBURGH'S '85-86 BUDGET

The SUNY Board of Trustees has submitted a budget request to the Governor in the amount of $1,193,000,000 to run the 29 state-operated campuses and five statutory colleges for the 1985-86 fiscal year. The University's request represents an increase of $98.2 million or 9 percent of the fiscal 1984-85 base of $1,094,800,000. Chancellor Clifford R. Wharton, Jr. said that SUNY will generate $185.9 million for the overall operating budget from its tuition and dormitory rent income, reducing the state's share of tax support to $1,007,100,000.

"We have targeted our resources," said Wharton, "to meet specific objectives — such as broadened programs which will contribute to the state's economic development in such areas as engineering and technology. At the same time we are proposing that existing support be marginally improved in order to continue progress in restoring quality and vigor in the academic, research and public service programs at SUNY."

Included in the overall SUNY proposal is a request for $23,859,300 for Plattsburgh State, according to William Woltjen, assistant vice president for finance. That figure is an increase of 4.5% over the fiscal 1984-85 budget. The request for the college at Plattsburgh, Woltjen said, contains funding for 13 additional positions in non-instructional areas and various increases to cover inflationary costs. Woltjen also commented that all union contracts will expire during the 1985-86 fiscal year and said that no money is included within this budget request for pay raises for employees, since there have been no negotiated settlements as yet. In addition, money for equipment is not requested for individual campuses within this budget. It is requested as a lump sum allocation for SUNY Central, which will allocate it to the various campuses at a later date.

Also approved by the SUNY Trustees was a capital construction budget of $192.7 million to support academic and dormitory facilities, as well as rehabilitation of existing buildings. Money from the capital budget if approved, will support several projects on campus, including new roofs on Myers and Yokum Halls, new doors in Macdonough Hall, and new locksets in Harrington and Mason Halls.

The SUNY budget has been sent to the State Division of the Budget for consideration and inclusion in the Governor's Executive Budget which will be sent to the Legislature in January.

FOUNDATION AWARDS $235,000 IN AID TO MORE THAN 500 UNDERGRADS

More than 500 undergraduates have received aid from the Foundation totaling more than $235,000, according to Suzanne Sokolowski, director of financial aid.

This was the report made by Ms. Sokolowski at the Foundation's fall board of directors' meeting, which was held on Oct. 22. The results show an increase in dollars awarded over the 1983-84 academic year of $28,508, with 78 additional students receiving aid. Ninety-four incoming freshmen with strong academic backgrounds and financial need each received $500 grants, while 31 incoming transfer students with grade-point averages of "B" or better and financial need were awarded $500 each.

At the meeting, the board:

- Learned that the Foundation's endowment now stands at $999,053, with almost one-half million dollars raised during the past four years;
- Recommended 15 members to the College Council for appointment to the Foundation general membership; and contributors."
- Learned that three board members' terms are expiring on January 31. They are: Anne Brandell, Patricia Judge and William J.H. Manning; and
- Was notified that the annual Reception for Friends of the Foundation, hosted by President and Mrs. Burke, will be held on Saturday evening, Dec. 2, from 6 - 8 p.m.

PRESIDENTIAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON PERSONAL SAFETY ESTABLISHED ON CAMPUS

In response to student-expressed concerns, President Joseph C. Burke has established a President's Advisory Committee on Personal Safety. Cheryl Hogle, associate director of campus life, will chair the committee. Burke said this week that the committee has been given five specific tasks: to investigate current practices and procedures that address personal safety on campus in order to assess their effectiveness; to identify specific problems and concerns that pose a threat to personal safety on campus; to suggest and to promote the development of creative and educational methods and programs to raise the level of sensitivity and awareness of personal safety within the campus community; to recommend to the president changes in policies and procedures to correct conditions on campus deemed unsafe; and to submit a report to the president each semester.

ALUMNI PHONOTHON NEARS END OF SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN

Approximately 50 students have each spent several nights on the telephone during the past few weeks to benefit their fellow students at Plattsburgh State. The student volunteers have been calling Plattsburgh alumni who reside within New York State to ask for contributions to the Annual Alumni Fund Drive. As of October 25, 2,259 alumni have pledged $29,981 to the fund drive. Of that number, 1,393 are first-time contributors to the campaign. Mal Lavery, director of alumni affairs, said that the students will continue to make in-state telephone calls for the next few nights and will then spend several nights calling out-of-state alumni. The out-of-state calls, he explained, will be made courtesy of Harris Graphics in Champlain. That company has again volunteered the use of its telephone system for the drive. All the money collected through the Annual Alumni Fund is used to provide scholarship assistance to needy students.

During last year's phonothon, Lavery said, 2,469 alumni pledged $34,069 to the drive. He expects that both of those figures will be exceeded by the end of this year's drive. "The participation rate is very important," Lavery commented. "Each year, we find that more and more alumni are willing to help current students. Our primary goal is to continue to increase the number of alumni contributors."

FRESHMAN HONOR SOCIETY TO INDUCT TWENTY-SEVEN

The campus chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, the national honorary society for freshmen, will induct twenty-seven new members in a ceremony scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, November 3 in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge. Membership in Phi Eta Sigma is conferred on students who have maintained a grade point average of 3.5 or higher during one or both semesters of their freshman year. This year for the first time, parents of the inductees have been invited to attend the ceremony. President Joseph C. Burke will address the new members and Eric DeCarlo, charter vice president of the honorary society, will also speak.

DR. RANEY ELLIS NAMED DIRECTOR OF ACADEMIC COMPUTING

Dr. Raney Ellis, associate professor of psychology, has been named director of academic computing, effective January 1, 1985, according to Dr. Jerome Supple, vice president of academic affairs. Ellis, who will maintain his ties with the psychology department, will replace Dr. Stewart Denenberg, who is returning to fulltime teaching duties in the computer science department.

FACULTY MEMBER AND STUDENTS INDUCTED INTO NURSING HONORARY SOCIETY

Gamma Delta Chapter of Sigma Theta Tau, the national honor society in nursing, held its annual induction ceremony on October 14. Each initiate has met high standards of academic excellence, including the maintenance of a grade point average of at least 3.0 in nursing courses, and excellence in the professional performance in nursing. New members of Sigma Theta Tau are Diane Gardner '84, Judith Higel, assistant professor of nursing, and senior students Catherine Harrison-Wurster, Marlene Lindley, Nancy Malone, Anne Manwell, Audrey Nicoll, Lois Piper, Susan Springthorpe, and Lori Williams.

CAMPUS SEFA CAMPAIGN EXTENDED

The campus portion of the State Employees Federated Appeal, originally slated to end on October 29 has been extended, according to SEFA campaign Mayerlyn Miller. To date, pledges and contributions of just over $5,000 have been received toward the campus goal of $26,000. The President's office, the personnel office, and printing and duplicating have reported 100% participation of their employees, Miller said.

Miller encouraged team captains to complete their solicitations of employees as soon as possible and especially urged those people who planned to make a pledge through payroll deduction to complete and return their cards so that they may be processed.

SPORTS UPDATE; WOMEN'S SOCCER TEAM SEEDED FOURTH IN NYS TOURNAMENT

The women's soccer team is seeded fourth in this weekend's New York State AIAW Tournament at Geneva. The 10-3-1 Cardinals will face Buffalo State in the first game. Last week the Cards breezed by Siena 3-0, Lyndon State 7-0 and McGill 4-1. Sue Fox had three goals in the Lyndon State game.

The men booters lost a 2-1 overtime decision to Clarkson. The Cards finish the season 5-8-0.

The Cardinal spikers won a 3-0 match with St. Michael's to up its record to 17-6, with the SUNYAC Championship this weekend.

Cardinal hockey begins Thursday night at the Field House. The Cards open the 1984-85 season with Dawson College of Montreal. Steve Hoar's squad won two preseason games last week, 7-3 over Concordia and 9-1 over St. Michael's. Dave Piromalli had three goals and three assists against St. Michael's.

'59 GRAD NAMED SUNY ASSOCIATE VICE CHANCELLOR

Thomas M. Mannix, who graduated from Plattsburgh State in 1959 with a degree in elementary education, will become SUNY's associate vice chancellor for employee relations and personnel on December 3. Mannix is an experienced labor relations negotiator and collective bargaining specialist.

Mannix, currently manager of collective bargaining services for the University of California, received an M.S. degree in administration and supervision from the College at New Paltz in 1961. His graduate studies, in collective bargaining, organizational behavior and educational administration, were done at the New York State School of Industrial and Labor Relations at Cornell University.

Mannix has been an elementary school teacher, a regional director for the Empire State Federation of Teachers, a New York State United Teachers staff representative, and an associate director of the National Center for Collective Bargaining in Higher Education at City University of New York's Baruch College. Before accepting his current assignment with the University of California, he served as assistant to the president and chief negotiator and contract administrator for Western Michigan University.

DEBORAH PACYNA SELECTED TO DELIVER WINTER COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

Deborah Pacyna, a junior mass communications major from Poultney, Vermont, has been selected to deliver the main address at the winter commencement ceremony on December 21. Don Garrant, who chairs the commencement committee, commented, "Last year's commencement, with Roger Sadler giving the address, was so successful that President Burke suggested we ask another student for this year's ceremony. Deborah Pacyna is an outstanding speaker for the college's forensic team and we believe she is an excellent choice to deliver this commencement address."

Pacyna, a member of the forensic team for two years, is president of the Forensic Union, and competes in several individual events, as well as the pentathlon. She is the Student Senate secretary and was a charter member of Phi Eta Sigma, the national honor society for freshmen. Pacyna has also been a campus tour guide and peer recruiter, and is a member of the social sorority Alpha Delta Theta.

MORAN TRANSFERRED; LUGURI PROMOTED

Thomas Moran, formerly assistant vice president for student affairs, has been transferred to the academic affairs division, where he will maintain the title of assistant vice president. Peter Luguri, former director of the Upward Bound Program, has been promoted to assistant to the vice president for student affairs. These changes were officially announced this week by President Joseph C. Burke who commented, "Tom Moran will be charged with administering our new 'Value-Added Program.' His background and his understanding of the college make him the perfect person to lead our efforts in that program. We are also fortunate to have Peter Luguri, with his experience in special programs on campus, move into the vice president's office." In addition to the Value-Added Program, it is expected that Moran will be working on grant writing and other assignments. Luguri will coordinate the operations of Upward Bound, Special Services, and the Educational Opportunity Program.

FORMER HOCKEY STARS TO DO BATTLE NOVEMBER 10

More than 30 former Cardinal hockey stars are expected to return to campus this weekend to participate in the annual Alumni Hockey Game. The game, sponsored by the Cardinal Booster Club, in cooperation with the Alumni Association, will be played at 2 p.m. on Saturday, November 10. Admission will be $1 for adults and 50¢ for students. Proceeds will benefit the Cardinal Booster Club.

Former All-American Doug Kimura and Chip Grabowski, Francois Bellefeuille, Rick Young, Doug Smoke and Dennis Poulin are among the more recent and most familiar Cardinal alumni who have indicated they will play in the game. The format calls for the teams to be matched on the basis of odd versus even years, with the final year of varsity hockey eligibility determining "class year." However, rosters will be adjusted if necessary to ensure team balance.

The annual Alumni game originally pitted the former Cardinal greats against the current varsity players, but the event has become so popular that last year the format had to be changed. So many players were returning that it was impossible to ensure sufficient playing time for everyone. The event, in fact, has become a two-day affair, according to Booster Club President Bob Walleit. The weekend kicks off Friday evening with a reception at 8 p.m. in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge for the hockey alumni and their guests, members of the Booster Club and the players and coaches of the 1984-85 Cardinal hockey team. A reception and dinner in Algonquin Hall will follow the afternoon hockey game. The cost is $10 per person for this function, and it is also open to members of the Cardinal Booster Club. The hockey alumni will be guests at Saturday evening's varsity contest between the Cardinals and the University of Ottawa.

33 STUDENTS LISTED IN WHO'S WHO

The 1984-85 edition of the publication Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges will include the names of 33 Plattsburgh State senior and graduate students. These students were selected by an all-campus committee under the direction of Paul Paska, Student Association vice president for academics, from among nominations submitted by faculty, staff and student organization presidents.

The publishers of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges seek to further the aims of higher education by rewarding and by recognizing leadership and academic excellence among college and university students. Students chosen for this honor are a cross section of outstanding contemporary American college students as more than 1500 institutions of higher education across the country participate in this program.

Plattsburgh students selected to appear in the 1984-85 edition include:

"Stereotypes About Aging: Fact or Fiction?" is the topic of the first program sponsored by the newly established Institute for the Study of Geriatrics and Gerontology at Plattsburgh State University. The symposium, which is open to the public, is scheduled for 2 p.m. on Friday, November 9 in the Cardinal Lounge, Angell College Center. "Information on attitudes toward the elderly indicate that many people exaggerate the percentage of older persons who experience physical, emotional and social problems," according to Symposium Moderator, Dr. Eleanor Stoller, department of sociology. Symposium participants will identify misconceptions about the elderly and assess the extent to which common stereotypes describe actual problems. Speakers include Professors Marilyn Morton, nursing ("Are Older People Sick and Disabled?"); Peggy LaFrance, nursing ("Are Older People Senile?"); Taher Zandi, psychology ("Are Older People Forgetful?"); Naomi McCormick, psychology ("Are Older People Still Sexy?"); Ray Domenico, speech and hearing ("Do Communication Skills Decline with Age?"); Miles Martin, business and economics ("Are Older People Unproductive Workers?"); and James Mapstone, sociology ("Are Older People Lonely and Isolated?").

TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE CENTER TO SPONSOR TAX WORKSHOP

A Tax Workshop for prospective and new businesses will be conducted and sponsored by the Technical Assistance Center on November 13 and 14 from 6 to 10 p.m. in Ballroom A of the Angell College Center. Laura Long and Ray McKinney will discuss business organizations, recordkeeping, business income taxes, employer taxes and sales tax. The number of participants is limited to 50. A registration fee of $5 will be collected at the first session. Anyone interested in attending should pre-register by calling 564-2214.

DR. ALISON JAGGAR TO LECTURE TWICE ON CAMPUS THURSDAY

Dr. Alison Jaggar, professor of philosophy at the University of Cincinnati and presently Visiting Scholar at Rutgers, will make two presentations on campus Thursday, November 8, 1984. At the Women's Studies Forum, held in the Cardinal Lounge of Angell Center from noon to one p.m., Dr. Jaggar will speak on Women and Philosophy. At 4:15 p.m. also in the Cardinal Lounge, her topic will be "Teaching Sedition: Some Aspects of Feminist Pedagogy." Both presentations are free and open to the public and refreshments will be served.

SPORTS UPDATE; THREE NAMED TO SUNYAC ALL-STAR SOCCER TEAM

The women's soccer team bounced back from an opening round 1-0 loss to Buffalo State to win the consolation round of the NYSIAW Tournament in Geneva. Helen Cartwright scored two overtime goals for a 4-2 win over host William Smith, then Sue Fox scored twice to lead the Cards to a 3-1 win over St. Lawrence. The Cardinals finish the season 12-4-1. Fox, Mary Ellen Wisotzke and Emily Sickler were named last week to the SUNYAC First team.

Hockey kicked off last week with Steve Hoar's squad blasting Dawson College 12-2 and losing to Division I St. Lawrence 4-2. Joey Ferras, Neil Mulchay and Tom Griffin had two goals each for the Cards in the Dawson game.

Linda Krasensky and Ellen Kissane finished 12th and 14th respectively to lead the Cardinals to a fifth-place finish in the ECAC Division III Championships. Ithaca College won the meet. The men harriers did not fare as well, finishing 14th in the State Association Championships at Siena. Dean Diltz finished 13th for the Cards. Siena edged St. Lawrence for the team title.

The women's volleyball team faltered at the SUNYAC Volleyball Championships Saturday at Fredonia. The Cards beat Fredonia 2-1, lost to Brockport 1-2, lost to Binghamton 0-2 and beat New Paltz to move to the quarter-finals. The Cards then lost 0-2 to Albany State. The team takes its 21-11 record into the NYSIAW Tournament. The Cards are seeded 11th in the 16-team tournament.

HUNGARIAN AGRICULTURAL EXPERT TO VISIT CAMPUS NOVEMBER 8

Dr. Istvan Doboczky, the first Secretary of Agricultural Affairs of the Embassy of the Hungarian People's Republic, will be the guest of the Center of Business and Economics on November 8. Doboczky will deliver a guest lecture to Dr. Francis Eethlen's class on international marketing that evening and will be the guest of honor at a reception held earlier at the Center.

COLLEGE COMMUNITY ORCHESTRA TO PERFORM WITH GUEST CONDUCTOR

The College-Community Orchestra will perform its first concert of the season on Sunday, November 11th, at 8 p.m. in Hawkins Hall. Michael Bartos, the first of three guest conductors to be featured this season, will lead the orchestra in three works by classical composers. One of Beethoven's most well-known pieces, the Fifth Symphony, will open the concert. Other selections are the Symphony in G Minor, by Mozart, and a selection by Brahms. Tickets for the concert are available at the College Center box office.

CANADIAN EXECUTIVE TO PRESENT $50,000 TO FOUNDATION

Roy Cottier, senior vice president for corporate relations of Northern Telecom Limited, will be a special guest on campus on November 28 and 29. Cottier, who is also the president of the Business Fund for Canadian Studies in the United States, will present a check in the amount of $50,000 from Northern Telecom to the College Foundation, as the first installment in creating a $90,000 endowment fund. Income from the endowment fund will be used to advance the Canadian Studies program on the campus through student aid, money for faculty research and travel, and special Canadian-oriented activities. The official presentation will take place at 5:30 p.m. on Thursday during a reception in Cottier's honor.

During his two-day visit, Cottier will also lecture on "Business, Government, and Politics in Canada: A Businessman's Perspective" to the Canadian Politics class, meet with Canadian Studies faculty and students, and review, with its organizers, the Canada/US Business Conference which was held in Montreal in October and which was financially supported by a grant from the Business Fund.

ALUMNI PHONOTHON HITS NEW HIGH

The third annual Alumni Phonothon has ended with a record high amount of pledges. During the last few weeks, approximately 50 student volunteers worked a total of 21 nights, calling alumni to ask for their financial support for the Annual Alumni Fund Drive. When all the columns were added up, the figures showed that 2,695 alumni had pledged $36,220. That's 226 more alumni than pledged during last year's phonothon and $2,151 more in money pledged. Mal Lavery, director of alumni affairs, expressed his pleasure at the results. "We're very happy with our progress this year. Almost 1,700 of the alumni who made a pledge during this phonothon had never given to the annual fund drive before. Much of the increase in participation," Lavery added, "is due solely to the eagerness and enthusiasm of the students who made the calls. Without their help, the phonothon project would be impossible." Lavery also expressed his appreciation to Harris Graphics Corporation for allowing the student volunteers to use its telephone lines to call alumni who live out-of-state, and to the Center for Human Resources for the use of its conference room to make the in-state calls.

SUNY TRUSTEES TO HOLD HEARING ON CAMPUS ON NOVEMBER 29

A public hearing to receive testimony and statements from concerned individuals about university-wide issues will be held at 1:30 p.m. on November 29 in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge. The hearing is sponsored by the SUNY Board of Trustees, and will be conducted by SUNY Chancellor Clifton R. Wharton, Jr. Also attending will be Board Vice-Chairperson Judith Moyers, Trustees Judith Duken and Edgar Sandman, Secretary of the University Martha Downey, and Sanford Levine, Vice Chancellor for Legal Affairs. Persons wishing to present prepared testimony at the hearing are asked to submit the subject of their testimony to Downey at SUNY Plaza, Albany, NY 12246, so that their names may be placed on the agenda. Testimony is limited to five minutes and speakers will be asked to provide six copies of their testimony to the hearing registration officer on the day of the hearing. Persons wishing to make brief comments, no more than three minutes in length, are requested to file their names on the day of the hearing.

OLYMPIC OFFICIALS TO SPEAK AT OLYMPIC ACADEMY

The executive directors of both the International Olympic Committee and the United States Olympic Committee have agreed to deliver speeches at the United States Olympic Academy IX which will be held on campus from June 26 through June 30, 1985. Dr. Ernest Rangazas, who will direct the academy, announced this week that Monique Berlioux, executive director of the IOC, which has its headquarters office in Lausanne, Switzerland, will deliver the keynote address during the opening general session of the Olympic Academy. Berlioux, a former Olympic swimmer from France, has held her current position for approximately fifteen years and, according to Rangazas, is extremely influential in amateur athletics. Don Miller, executive director of the USOC for the past twenty years, will speak at the academy's closing banquet. "We're very excited that these two people have accepted our invitation," said Rangazas. "They are two of the top people in amateur sports and the Olympic movement and their presence will certainly enhance the entire conference."

The Olympic Academy has as its theme "Olympism: A Commitment to a Better World Tomorrow Through Sport." Rangazas said that the academy will include discussion of a new interpretation of "amateurism," the politics of sports, and the future of the Olympics. Speakers will include former Olympic athletes and other experts from Germany, Canada, South America, and the United States. Plans are progressing well, Rangazas said, and the complete program will be announced soon.

The Olympic Academy is the educational program of the USOC and is intended to provide a forum for Olympic officials, athletes, and experts in the fields of sports history, sociology, psychology and medicine to gather and share ideas about the Olympic movement. Academies are held each summer except when the Summer Games are held. This will be the first academy to be held in the Eastern United States.

NOMINATIONS CURRENTLY BEING SOLICITED FOR DISTINGUISHED TEACHING PROFESSORSHIP

The Nomination Review Committee for Distinguished Teaching Professorship invites all faculty and students to nominate faculty members for the State University of New York Distinguished Teaching Professorship Award. The criteria for this award are as follows: 1) fulltime teaching including undergraduate courses; 2) the rank of associate or full professor; 3) three years (minimum) of fulltime teaching at Plattsburgh State. Appointment to a Distinguished Teaching Professorship by the State University of New York Board of Trustees is regarded as a promotion and will carry with it tenure in rank, if it has not already been attained, and a salary increase of up to $2,500 (in addition to any negotiated salary increase).

Nominations should be sent to Dr. Ann Zielinski at the Center for Art, Music and Theatre by December 4, 1984.

COLLEGE TO UNOFFICIALLY CLOSE ON NOVEMBER 23

The college will unofficially close on the Friday after Thanksgiving (November 23). Only essential services will be maintained. Employees should check with their department supervisor to determine if they are required to work. Non-Teaching Professionals and Civil Service employees will be required to charge appropriate leave credits for that date. If the employee does not have sufficient leave credits (annual, compensatory, or personal), credits may be advanced provided the employee makes appropriate arrangements with their supervisor and Payroll. Employees who wish to work on that day rather than charge leave credits should inform their supervisor who in turn should contact the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action where work assignments for those people will be made. Hourly or per diem Civil Service employees with less than 38 weeks of State service will be on leave without pay. Please contact the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action if you have any questions.

EXECUTIVE DEVELOPMENT SEMINAR SET FOR NOVEMBER 15-17

The first in a series of Executive Development Seminars funded through a grant from the U.S. Department of Education and sponsored by the Center for Business and Economics will be held on campus this week. Two evening sessions will be held (from 6 to 9:30 p.m.) on Thursday and Friday. Saturday's session will run from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and includes lunch and dinner.

Seminar organizer Dr. Fouad El Taher, professor in the Center for Business and Economics, explained that the seminar is designed to teach participants how to obtain economic, social and competitive information needed before investing money and other resources, and how to choose distribution channels, agents and distributors. Presenters during the seminar will include El Taher, Dr. V.H. Kirplani, and Dr. John E. O'Hara. Kirplani, professor of marketing and international business at Concordia University, is the author of seven books and numerous articles on international business, planning and marketing. He is currently vice president of the Academy of Marketing Science. O'Hara, professor of marketing and management at Plattsburgh State, has more than 30 years of business experience with the Fortune 500 companies of Republic Aviation, IT&T, American Can Company and the Sperry Hutchinson Company. More information about the seminar is available from El Taher at the Center for Business and Economics.

SIGN LANGUAGE ARTIST TO MAKE SEVERAL PRESENTATIONS ON CAMPUS

Sign language artist Susan Freundlich will make four presentations on campus on November 29 and 30, under the auspices of the Campus Arts Council and College Auxiliary Services. She will be the guest speaker at the November 29 meeting of the Women's Studies Forum at 12:15 p.m. in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge, and will perform that night at 8 p.m. in the Hartman Theatre. On Friday, she will conduct workshops at 10 a.m. and at 2 p.m. in the Myers Studio Theatre. Freundlich is an artist who signs concerts for the deaf. Her performances are, however, adapted so that both the hearing impaired and hearing audiences may enjoy her physical interpretation of music. Freundlich's programs on campus will consider the expression of signing in the arts, as well as educational and social issues relating to the hearing impaired population.

FACULTY SENATE BY-LAW REVIEW COMMITTEE CONDUCTING OPINION POLL

Members of the Faculty Senate By-Law Review Committee are conducting an opinion poll among the voting faculty. The committee has asked faculty to express their opinions on the following issues: 1) eliminating the Standing Committee on Graduate Studies and replacing the Standing Committee on Undergraduate Studies with one dealing with academic policy (both graduate and undergraduate) and one dealing with curricula and programs; 2) designating a Senate officer as overseer of all governance elections and appointments; 3) establishing the position of a presiding officer of the faculty separate from the Chair of the Senate; 4) revising the method for selecting chairs of standing committees; 5) redefining governance units and electoral units. Voting faculty members are asked to return the questionnaire to Dr. Jon Gottschall, chairman of the committee, H-111B, prior to November 16.

TUESDAY REFLECTIONS TO PRESENT UVM WRITING EXPERT

The November 27 presentation of "Tuesday Reflections" will present a lecture by Dr. Anthony Magistrale, who is the assistant to the director of the University of Vermont's all-campus writing program. Magistrale will speak at 4:15 p.m. in the Angell College Center Cardinal Lounge on the topic "Writing Across the Curriculum: Teaching Students Who Don't Want to Write." Magistrale has conducted a number of workshops and has numerous publications in literature, composition and creative writing. The lecture is free and open to the campus community and the public.

PLEASE NOTE

Because of the Thanksgiving break, "Weekly" will not be published next week. Publication will resume on November 28. The calendar in this issue runs from November 15 through November 29.

SMITH AND SIMPSON TO BE CO-PRESENTERS AT WOMEN'S STUDIES FORUM

Dorothy Smith, a graduate student in the liberal studies program, and Dr. Charles Simpson, associate professor of sociology, will be the presenters at the November 15 Women's Studies Forum. The forum will be held from 12:15 p.m. to 1 p.m. in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge. Their topic, "Secular Reactions to Sacred Rites — Wedding Showers in the North Country" deals with research and study of patterns, traditions, and meaning of activities in showers for prospective brides (and grooms) in this area. Smith and Simpson presented this research at the Sociological Association of the Northeast meeting last spring. The Women's Studies Forum is free and open to the public.

SPORTS UPDATE; KRASENSKY AND KISSANE QUALIFY FOR NATIONALS

Linda Krasensky and Ellen Kissane qualified last weekend for the NCAA Division III Cross Country Championships to be held Saturday, November 17, in Delaware, Ohio. The Cardinal women's team finished third, one place shy of the team qualifying standard. Ithaca and Albany State finished first and second respectively. Krasensky finished sixth and Kissane ninth in the Regional Meet at Hamilton College. They are the first Cardinal women to qualify for cross country nationals since 1981. Dean Diltz finished 13th on the men's side, one place short of qualifying. The Cardinal men finished a distant 12th place.

A crowd of 2,700 watched the Cardinal skaters fall 6-4 to Division I UVM on November 7, but the Cards came back later in the week to edge Ottawa 3-2 and Canton ATC 6-2. Steve Plaskon scored twice in the Ottawa game, despite playing with a broken wrist. The Cards are now 3-2, with the Division III opener Sunday at 2 p.m. against Brockport State in the Field House.

Cardinal booters Donovan Scott, Andrew Aguirre and Terry Bacchus were named to the All-SUNYAC Soccer Team. Scott, a 1983 All-American and Aguirre each had seven points for the Cards. Bacchus had four assists for Plattsburgh State.

This weekend the men's basketball team opens its season, hosting the third Pepsi-Cardinal Classic. Division III power Nazareth College will open Friday with Stony Brook at 7 p.m., followed by Plattsburgh State and Lyndon State at 9 p.m. The consolation game is Saturday at 1 p.m., with the championship game at 3 p.m. All games will be played in Memorial Hall gymnasium.

SEFA CAMPAIGN TOPS GOAL WITH $27,162 PLEDGED

The campus portion of the State Employees Federated Appeal has topped its goal, according to coordinator Mayerlyn Miller. Miller said Tuesday that, to date, $27,162 has been pledged or contributed by campus employees, which is 5% above the campus goal of $26,000. Miller expressed her gratitude to all those employees who made a pledge or contribution to the SEFA drive, and commented, "The amount of each gift is not as important as the collective commitment that this institution has made through these gifts to the community in which it is located. At some point, almost every one of us is touched in some measure by one of the agencies which receive funds through this campaign."

Offices and departments which had 100% participation in the campaign included: Assistant Vice President for Finance, Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs, Auxiliary Security and Safety, Budgeting, Career/Life Planning and Placement, Center for Lifelong Learning, Central Duplicating and Printing, College Relations, Institutional Research, Instructional Media, Payroll, Personnel, President's Office, Purchasing, Technical Assistance Center, and Vice President for Student Affairs.

FACULTY ASSOCIATION CREATES ENDOWMENT FUND FOR STUDENT SCHOLARSHIPS

The college's Faculty Association has created an endowment fund with the Plattsburgh College Foundation. Income from the fund will be used to provide scholarship assistance to needy students. Faculty Association President Diana Green and Treasurer Al Hassler presented a check for $2,500 to President Joseph C. Burke this week. Of the total gift, $1,500 will be placed in the endowment fund, $500 is earmarked for campus beautification and $500 will go to the library fund. This year's gift provides $500 more in student aid than last year's, said Green.

"The members of the Faculty Association decided at their annual meeting to create the endowment fund," she said, "because over the long run, we will be able to provide scholarship assistance to many more students than if we simply continue to make an annual gift to the Foundation. The Association plans to make additional contributions to the endowment in the future."

President Burke receives the Faculty Association check from Diana Green and Al Hassler.

SA ELECTIONS SET FOR DECEMBER 4; FOUR-WAY RACE FOR PRESIDENT

A four-way race for Student Association president sets the tone for the December 4 SA general election. Perry Cuocci, Bill Mattar, Steven M. Siroky and Robert A. Haynes will battle for SA president. Paul Berry, William R. Storr and Betsy Richert are running for executive vice president.

Candidates for vice president for activities are Chip Donoghue and Patrick Ostrander. Vice president for student services candidates are Gerald Mignone and Holly Kansky.

Running unopposed are John Calogero (vice president for finances), Shari Kovar (vice president for academics) and Anita Bodrogi (vice president for the arts).

Running for the 15 available senate seats are: Howard Cohn, Trine Hanly, Ann McLaughlin, Benita Garland, Laurie-Kay Lare, Marie Kizer, Frank A. Spensieri, Theresa Rosati, William Murphy, Stacey Barie, Kimberly Kenyon, Louis Loftin, Fernando A. Moreta, Glenn H. Fredenburg, Randa Khader, Russell A. Banks, Sterling Churgin, Yvette Christensen, Deanne Grimaldi, Tom Gonyea, Lynn Beebe, Matthew Nolan, Dawn Steiner, Stephan Ciurzak, Leonard Welch, Arthur Shade, Timothy Jennings, Karen E. Sutton, Lori Carozza, Eric DeCarlo, Thomas Detwiller, Robert Vetrone, Janice Lee Tucker, John F. Arroyo, Kevin Abbaticchio and Brian D. Acard.

Deanne Grimaldi is running for Student Assembly delegate and Traci Moorcroft is the lone candidate for chief justice. Maureen Gordon is running unopposed for four open associate justice positions.

Off campus students will vote in the Angell Center from 10-5. Students in Banks, Whiteface, Macomb, Kent, Adirondack, Harrington and Macdonough will vote at Algonquin Dining Hall from 11:30 - 1:30 and 4:30 - 7. Students in Moffitt, Hood, Wilson, deFredenburg and Mason will vote in Clinton Dining Hall from 11- 2 and 4:30 - 7.

CANADIAN STUDIES GRANT APPROVED FOR THIRD YEAR

The Center for the Study of Canada has been notified that its budget request for the third year of a grant from the Business Fund for Canadian Studies in the United States has been approved, and at a higher funding level than the first two years. Dr. Richard Beach, Center director, explained that the grant sponsors the Canada-U.S. Business Conference Series. Approximately $25,000 was allocated to the Center for the first two years, but, Beach said, the Center will receive $18,150 for next year's conference alone. This, he added, "should allow us greater flexibility in bringing prestigious speakers for the principal functions." This year's conference in Montreal attracted about 150 Canadian and American businesspersons, government officials, and educators to hear Nobel Laureate James Tobin and other speakers talk about international trade, energy issues, and government deficits. Next year's conference will be held October 27-29 in Montreal.

THIRTY-EIGHT INDUCTED INTO EDUCATION HONOR SOCIETY

Thirty-eight candidates majoring in elementary education, special education, speech and hearing education, health education and secondary education, were recently initiated into Theta Kappa, the campus chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, an honorary society of education. Membership in the honor society is based on academic achievement, leadership, and a demonstrated commitment to the ideals of the educational field. New members of Kappa Delta Pi include: Tracy Adams, Nancy Agee, Renee Bloom, Brenda Crall, Shelley Davis, Raune Anne Decker, Patricia DeMasso, Kathy Durham, Sandra Feldman, Debra Halt, Alice Infante, Wendy Jaquish, Michelle Jennings, Claire Johnston, Debra Leahy, Mary Ellen Locke, Lori Longshore, Marie Lowther, Maureen McCoy, Christine Malmgren, Martha Meffert, Gerard Mignone, Monica Natoli, Jill Perry, Suzanne Poirier, Karen Ralphs, Jane Ringrose, Cathy Sassone, Mary Savoca, Linda Schmitt, Carol Shaw Vale, Tina Simpson, Joanna Stevenson, Christine Stoker, Kimberly Sumner, Rebecca Towne, Jacquelyn Waite, and Julie Weinstein.

SUMMER ORIENTATION LEADERS SELECTED

The Office of Campus Life has announced the selection of the 1985 Summer Orientation Staff. Coordinator of the 1985 Parent Orientation will be Gene Thomas, current director of Macdonough Hall and coordinator of off-campus student programs. Thomas served as a student orientation leader and a resident assistant for three years as an undergraduate. Noreen Murphy, currently director of Whiteface Hall and coordinator of the residence hall counseling program will act as coordinator of the Student Orientation Program again this summer. The 1985 Parent Orientation leaders will be: Mark Holoska (junior nursing major from Endwell); Mike DeClerck (sophomore media major from Marion); Julie Weinstein (senior elementary ed. major from Delmar); and Helene Lantry (senior communications major from Helena).

TUITION ASSISTANCE AVAILABLE FOR PART-TIME STUDENTS

Tuition assistance is now available for part-time students through the Aid for Part-Time Study (APTS) Program, according to Suzanne Sokolowski, director of financial aids. Nine students are currently taking advantage of APTS, which went into effect this semester, and a total of $2,337.50 in tuition assistance has been provided to these students. Sokolowski explained that the aid is available to New York State residents who are matriculated undergraduates and who are taking 6 to 11 credit hours during the semester aid is received. Recipients must maintain a cumulative passing average, meet income guidelines, show financial need, and not have tuition costs paid by another source which is tuition specific (this does not include Pell Grants). Applications are now available for the spring semester and may be obtained in either the Financial Aid Office or the Center for Lifelong Learning. Applications must be completed and returned by December 14 for consideration of a tuition waiver. Applications received between December 15 and mid-January, 1985 will be considered for a refund. Workshops on the program will be held at 7 p.m. on December 6 in the Angell Center meeting room #2, and at 5:30 p.m. on December 11 in the Angell Center meeting room #1. Further information is available from Laura Dominy (2072) or Bette Brohel (2050).

SPORTS UPDATE; CARDS WIN CARDINAL CLASSIC

Norm Law's hoopsters ran away with the Cardinal Pepsi Classic title with a 78-71 win over Stony Brook. The Card's Steve Dowd earned MVP honors with 24 points in the championship game. Mark McIntyre was named to the All Tournament team. Plattsburgh State advanced to the final with an easy 94-64 win over Lyndon State.

Linda Krasensky finished 35th and Ellen Kissane 45th at the NCAA Division III Cross Country Championships in Delaware, Ohio. No Plattsburgh State women harrier had even finished higher than 70th. Kissane and Dean Diltz have been named to the SUNYAC hall of Fame for their cross-country achievements.

The Cardinal hockey team kicked off its Division II schedule with convincing wins over Brockport State (15-2) and Norwich (6-2). The Cards are 5-3, heading into this weekend's Coca-Cola Classic at the Field House. Four of the top ECAC Division II teams will be competing for the Coca-Cola Championship. Merrimack will battle RIT in the opener at 5:30 Friday, followed by Plattsburgh State and North Adams at 8:30. The consolation game is at 5:30 Saturday, with the Championship game at 8:30.

The women hoopsters are off to a 2-3 start, taking third place in the Plymouth State Tournament. The Cards edged UMass Boston 62-61 after losing to New Hampshire College in the opening round.

The women's swim team finished fifth in the Great Dane Relays in Albany. The men finished ninth.

CHORAL ARTS SOCIETY TO PRESENT TWO CONCERTS ON DECEMBER 2

The Choral Arts Society of Northeastern New York will present two performances on Sunday, December 2, at 3 p.m. and at 8 p.m.. Both performances will take place in the Hartman Theatre. The 60-member chorus will sing Bach's "Magnificat" and Gabrielli's "In Ecclesiis." The Choral Arts Society is conducted by Richard Probert and accompanied by David Spring. The chorus will also be accompanied for these concerts by an orchestra. Tickets are $3 for the public and 50¢ for SA members, and are available from chorus members or at the Hartman Theatre Box Office.

TWO EXHIBITIONS OPEN IN MYERS AND KENT GALLERIES

Two art exhibitions opened this week with receptions in both the Myers Fine Arts Gallery and the Rockwell Kent Gallery. Both exhibitions will run through December 21. An exhibition of antique prints and drawings is on display in the Myers Gallery and is being given in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Hans Hirsch. Dr. Hirsch, professor emeritus of history, was responsible for the first official art exhibit at the college, given in Hawkins Hall in 1952. The prints and drawings in the exhibition include works by Rubens, Durer, Lucas Van Leyden, Canaletto, Callot, Rembrandt and Turner and are on loan from Skidmore College and various private collections.

The Rockwell Kent Gallery will be host to a new York State Craft Invitational Exhibition and Sale, curated by the Kent Gallery Docents. The exhibit features mixed media — clay, fabric, wood, glass and metal. Sculpture, baskets, jewelry and toys are included.

'82 PLATTSBURGH GRADUATE WINS NATIONAL AWARD

A Plattsburgh State alumnus is the winner of one of the most prestigious management awards in the United States. Joseph Carcello '82, an accounting major, has won the Robert Beyer Award, given by the National Association of Accountants to the person who receives the highest score on the Certified Management Examination. The examination is given in all 50 states, primarily to college professors and business executives and is comparable to the Certified Public Accountant Examination, which Carcello has also passed. Carcello received his degree in accounting summa cum laude and with departmental honors. He later received an M.B.A. degree from the University of Georgia with a 4.0 grade point average. Carcello is currently a staff auditor with Ernst and Whinney in Atlanta, Georgia.

TWENTY-ONE FACULTY AND STAFF MEMBERS ELECT EARLY RETIREMENT

Twenty-one faculty and professional staff members have announced that they will retire after this academic year, taking advantage of the early retirement program approved last spring by the New York State Legislature. Those who have elected to retire are: Dr. Edgar Barton, Edwin Beyer, Harry Bowen, Dr. Florence Callahan, Dr. Mildred Dominy, Dr. Carl Engelhart, Dr. Jose Fernandez, Dr. John Goldthwait, Dr. Ralph Grover, Albert Hassler, Dr. Hilton Heming, Joseph Hennessy, Dr. Venita Hubbard, Clara Johnson, Dr. Annette Manganel, Dr. Richard Manganel, Dr. James Miller, Dr. James Nolan, Dr. Mary Ann Poston, Dr. Ernest Rangazas, and Dr. Venice Sakell.

Dr. Edgar Barton, professor in the Center for Art, Music and Theatre, is the senior faculty member on the campus, and has taught at Plattsburgh State for 37 years. He teaches courses in sculpture and jewelrymaking. A recipient of two SUNY grants-in-aid, Barton has exhibited in numerous regional and national competitive, as well as invitational, exhibitions sponsored by various galleries and museums. He is represented in many private collections in the U.S., Canada, and England and is affiliated with professional galleries in New York City (The Sculpture Center), Philadelphia (Suzanne Gross) and Woodstock (Ann Leonard). His commissioned works on campus are located in Ward, Sibley and Memorial Halls, as well as in the Angell Center Blue Lounge.

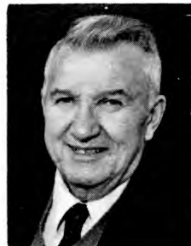

Erwin "Bud" Beyer, associate professor in the department of physical education, athletics, and recreational sports, came to Plattsburgh in 1964 and brought with him the concept known as "Acrotheatre." Beyer's brain child, which combines gymnastics with full scale dance shows, has entertained area residents and college students for many years each spring with the "Spectrum" shows. Before coming to Plattsburgh, he was head gymnastics coach at the University of Chicago for 15 years. He chaired the Central AAU Committee for ten years, coached the U.S. Women's Olympic Gymnastics Team in 1948 and also coached Cuba's Gymnastics Team for several years. In addition to teaching and Acrotheatre, Beyer has been active in the campus Faculty Senate and on various committees.

Dr. Edgar Barton

Edwin Beyer

Harry Bowen

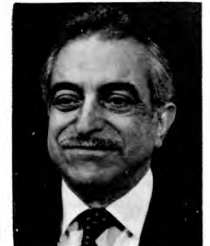

Dr. Florence Callahan

Dr. Mildred Dominy

Dr. Carl Engelhart

Dr. Jose Fernandez

Harry Bowen, director of instructional engineering and maintenance since 1982, was chief engineer and assistant to the director of instructional resources for 16 years prior to his appointment to his present title. Before coming to Plattsburgh State, Bowen was chief engineer at WPTZ-TV and at three radio stations. Bowen has taught the fundamentals of broadcast electronics for five years and has been a member of the Faculty Senate since 1980. He served as the Senate's secretary in 1980-81.

Florence Callahan, associate professor in the Center for Teacher Education, joined the faculty in 1951. During her first 16 years on campus, Callahan taught at the junior high school level in the campus school. Following a year studying at Catholic University, she began teaching on the college level, and has been a Block II coordinator for many years. She has served on numerous college-wide and departmental committees and in 1974-75 was listed in Who's Who Among Educators. Her career in education has spanned 46 years.

Dr. Mildred Dominy, professor in the Center for Teacher Education, became a member of the faculty in 1953 and has held the positions of campus school supervisor, off-campus supervisor of student teachers, coordinator of student teaching, and, most recently, specialist in elementary school mathematics. Dominy coordinates the graduate program leading to specialization in elementary school mathematics. In 1962, she received the first Ph.D. from Syracuse University awarded for specialization in elementary school mathematics. She worked with the NYS Education Department on the last Math Guide Revision, has published numerous articles and text series, and has conducted many in-service workshops for teachers. She has also held office in various professional organizations and is listed in several biographical directories, including Who's Who in Education.

Dr. Carl Engelhart, with 34 years of service, is second only to Barton in years on the college faculty. Engelhart, professor of English, chaired the department for several years, and also served a time as Dean of Humanities. He twice was a Fulbright lecturer — at Mainz University (West Germany) in 1958-9 and at the University of Graz (Austria) in 1967-68. He also won a Fulbright travel grant to India in 1962. At Graz, Engelhart was awarded the Medal for Meritorious Service to the University. During his first five years on campus, Engelhart oversaw the direction of five all-college musicals and he was the founder and first chairman (for ten years) of the Council on the Arts. Engelhart has been invited to teach English at Nankei University in Tianjin, China next fall.

Dr. Jose Fernandez, associate professor in the department of foreign languages and literature, came to Plattsburgh State in 1963 to teach Spanish. Fernandez has served as coordinator of the Spanish program and chairman of the foreign language department. A native Cuban who came to the United States in 1960, Fernandez held a Ph.D. in education from the University of Havana. During a sabbatic leave in 1975-76, he completed course work for a second doctoral degree in Spanish literature from Spain's University of Madrid and spent several months as the only American enrolled in the Institute of Hispanic Culture in the country.

Dr. John Goldthwait celebrated twenty years of service to Plattsburgh State last August as a professor in the philosophy department. He chaired the department for several years. Prior to coming to Plattsburgh, Goldthwait taught at Olgethorpe University, Sacramento State College and the University of California at Davis. In 1971, Goldthwait received a grant from the College Foundation to plan and carry out a Conference on Morality among Nations during the period of the 1972 FISU Games. He translated and edited a book on Immanuel Kant Observations of the Feeling of the Beautiful and Sublime and his book manuscript Value, Language, and Life has been accepted for publication early next year by Prometheus Books.

Dr. John Goldthwait

Dr. Ralph Grover

Albert Hassler

Dr. Hilton Heming

Joseph Hennessy

Dr. Venita Hubbard

Clara Johnson

A 1947 graduate of Plattsburgh State with a bachelor's degree in education, Dr. Ralph Grover, professor in the Center for Teacher Education, returned to his alma mater in 1956 after teaching several years at Chazy Central School and Potsdam State Teacher's College. Grover supervised elementary grades in the campus school and later became principal of that school. He currently teaches courses in school administration. He has been a member of the Faculty Senate and the Senate Executive Committee, and chaired the Senate Subcommittee on Graduate Studies. He has also served as the faculty representative on the College Foundation's Board of Directors. Off-campus, he has been a member of the Plattsburgh Board of Education, District Director of the Northern District PTA and a consultant to the CVPH Medical Center Supervisory Staff. Grover is also a well-known workshop leader and consultant in many area school districts.

Albert Hassler, assistant to the dean of arts and science, assumed his position at the college in 1968 following his retirement as a chief petty officer from the U.S. Navy after twenty years of service. Hassler has served on many campus committees and has done extensive student advisement. He has been a long-time supporter of the Cardinal Booster Club and currently serves as its vice president. Hassler has also been a hockey referee for the past twenty years and has officiated at all levels of the sport, from mites to college.

Dr. Hilton Heming, professor in the Center for Teacher Education, came to Plattsburgh State in 1957 and has held the positions of director of the division of education, associate dean and dean of professional studies. He chaired the Faculty Senate for several years and was the founding president of the New York State American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education. Heming is also a 1947 graduate of the college. Before joining the Plattsburgh faculty, Heming was director of graduate studies and chairman of the division of education at Northern State Teachers College in South Dakota. Heming is also active in community affairs and is a past president and life member of the Lions Club.

Joseph Hennessy, professor in the Center for Art, Music and Theatre, was hired in 1954. He has taught courses in art history, painting, drawing, and sculpture and chaired the art department for several years. His work has appeared in numerous regional and national art shows. Hennessy completely restored the four stained glass windows from the Champlain Valley Hospital which are installed in the Rockwell Kent Lounge. Hennessy has been active in the AAUP, the Faculty Association of SUNY and United University Professions. He has also served as a Faculty Senator and on numerous college committees.

Venita Hubbard's career has spanned 35 years in the education field. Hubbard, associate professor in the Center for Teacher Education, joined the faculty in 1959 as a teacher in the campus school. During her career here, she has held various positions, including chairperson of the student teaching department and acting principal of the campus school. For the past 18 years, she has served as supervisor of off-campus student teaching. In addition, she was involved with the Upward Bound program from 1966 through 1975. Hubbard has served on many college committees and has been active in several professional organizations.

Clara Johnson, associate professor of nursing, began employment at the college in 1966. She has been involved in the Faculty Senate with the By-laws Revision committee, the undergraduate study committee, the evaluation of general education committee, and the resources and planning committee. She served as acting chairperson of the nursing department in 1983-84. Johnson has also been active in the community with the Mental Health Association and the Clinton County Child Abuse Task Force.

Dr. Annette Lachance Manganel, associate professor in the Center for Teacher Education, joined the faculty in 1959 as a campus school teacher. She received her Ph.D. from the University of Maryland in 1972. For the past several years, she has been a Block I coordinator. Manganel has done considerable committee work here at the college and is currently one of five members of the Campus Honors Council. She also served for four years on the General Education Committee and is a faculty representative on the Board of Directors of the College Foundation.

Dr. Richard Manganel, associate professor in the Center for Teacher Education, assumed a position at the college in 1969 and has taught in both the education and the computer science departments. For some time, he held a joint appointment in the two areas. He has done post-doctoral study in reading and was the recipient of a SUNY Research Grant in 1983. Manganel has also served on numerous college committees and on the Faculty Senate. He is also active in the New York State Reading Association.

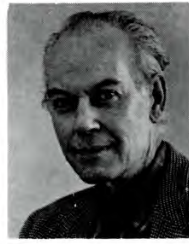

Dr. Annette Manganel

Dr. Richard Manganel

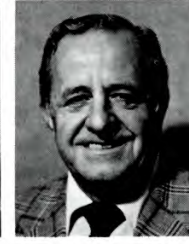

Dr. James Miller

Dr. James Nolan

Dr. Mary Ann Poston

Dr. Ernest Rangazas

Dr. Venice Sakell

Dr. James Miller, professor in the Center for Art, Music and Theatre has been a member of the faculty since 1956. A published arranger, composer and versatile musician, Miller considers himself a teacher first, although he has spent 27 years as director of the Plattsburgh Symphonic Band. His "National Boy Scout Song for Band" was performed for President Lyndon Johnson in 1964 and his arrangement of Bach's "Praeludium in C Minor" has been featured at the NYS School Music Association's convention. He performs frequently in the area as a jazz guitarist. He, too, has served on numerous college committees. He has been listed in "Who's Who in Music" and currently serves on the adjudication staff for Music Festivals International.

Dr. James Nolan, associate professor of biology, joined the faculty in 1967 to teach botany, but is perhaps as well known in the college and the community for his skill in calligraphy. During his tenure at the college, Nolan has taught 22 different courses in biology and calligraphy. A member of the Society of Scribes in New York City, Nolan worked for many years as a lettering and layout artist on Madison Avenue before returning to Cornell University to earn his degrees in botany. His "Washington's Call to War" was chosen for a special Bicentennial Exhibition of Calligraphy in New York City.

Dr. Mary Ann Poston, associate professor in the Center for Teacher Education, will complete 21 years of service to the college this year, and has been involved primarily in the instruction of both graduate and undergraduate reading courses. She has been active in college service and served on the Faculty Senate for several years. She also chaired the Reading Program Committee which planned the undergraduate and graduate reading courses and programs. Poston has made numerous presentations at state, regional and national professional conferences, including, among others, conferences of the International Reading Association, the National Council of Teachers of English and the New York State Reading Association.

Dr. Ernest Rangazas, has chaired the college's department of physical education, athletics and recreational sports for the past 25 years. He was the prime mover in bringing the World University Games to campus in 1972 and was a member of the U.S. administrative teams during the FISU Games in Italy and Russia. He arranged for the college to be the official training center and staging area for the U.S. Olympic team just prior to the 1976 Olympic Games in Montreal and was a member of the U.S. delegation during those games. Rangazas will direct the United States Olympic Academy IX on campus next June, when the academy will be held for the first time in the eastern U.S.

Dr. Venice Sakell, professor in the department of foreign languages and literature, joined the faculty in 1964, and currently serves as coordinator of the French program, Causeries, and the French Film Series. She has served on the Faculty Senate, chaired the Senate Committee on Graduate Studies for two years, and served on the SUNY Faculty Senate for two years. She has also been on the editorial board of "Faculty Forum" for ten years. Sakell was instrumental in organizing the Humanities Lecture Series in 1973-75 and Tuesday Reflections in 1975-76. She received an NEH Fellowship in 1976 and currently is involved with the Writing-Across-the-Curriculum Committee, and the Committee on Credit-by-Examination.

COLLEGE-COMMUNITY ORCHESTRA TO PERFORM SUNDAY

The Plattsburgh College-Community Orchestra will perform in Hawkins Hall on Sunday, December 9th at 4 p.m. The program is oriented towards young adults and children and lasts just under one hour. Conductor Michael Bartos will lead the orchestra in selections from Mozart's comic opera "Il Seraglio," and the Grand March from Verdi's "Aida." Several other short music pieces will also be performed. A chorus of students from several Clinton County schools will accompany the orchestra in a medley of Christmas carols.

SPORTS UPDATE; HOCKEY CARDS WIN CARDINAL COCA-COLA CLASSIC

Plattsburgh State hockey moved to the top of ECAC Division II with a solid 8-3 trouncing of RIT in the championship game of the Cardinal Coca-Cola Classic last weekend at the Field House. Dave Piromalli had three goals and tournament MVP Michel Valliere had 29 saves for the Cards.

Merrimack downed North Adams State 4-3 in overtime for the consolation title. In the opening round Plattsburgh crushed North Adams 8-4 and RIT beat Merrimack 5-4 in overtime. Merrimack's Jim Rickard and RIT's Larry Shomphe joined Cardinals Dave Piromalli, Joseph Ferras, John Rice, Michel Valliere and John Swift on the All-Tournament Team. The Cards are now 8-3 overall and 5-0 in ECAC Div. II play.

The men's basketball team dropped two in the Old Westbury Tournament. The Cards lost 57-44 to host Old Westbury and 70-44 to Brockport State. Jeff Law was named to the All-Tournament Team for the 2-2 Cards.

Oneonta State defeated a scrappy Cardinal women's team 64-59 in SUNYAC play. Darcy Gilbo led the Cards with 19 points. The women are 2-4.

The women's swim team opened its season with a 82-56 win over Russell Sage. Nancy Sawyer contributed to three Cardinal wins, while Marianne Kenny, Christine Martinek and Beth Keicher were double winners for the Cards.

MATTAR, BERRY ELECTED TO TOP STUDENT ASSOCIATION POSITIONS

Bill Mattar of Amherst has been elected president of the Student Association and Paul Berry of Lake George has been elected executive vice president. The Student Association at Plattsburgh State exercises control over an annual activities budget of nearly half a million dollars.

Mattar, a junior psychology major, has been very active in extracurricular activities. He has served as treasurer of his residence hall and vice-president of the Dormitory Council. He is a resident assistant and has held the position of president of the Resident Assistant Association. He has served one term as a Student Association Senator. During that time, he chaired the Senate's Board of Evaluation of New Organizations. Mattar is a member of the campus chapters of Psi Chi, the national honor society in psychology, and Omicron Delta Kappa, the national leadership honor society.

Mattar

Berry

Berry is a junior political science major. He is co-supervisor of the Student Security Service and also is a residence assistant. He has served one term as a Student Senator and has held membership on several committees, including the Intercollegiate Athletic Board.

Other students elected to office include: Gerard Mignone, vice president for student services; John Calogero, vice president for finances; Sheri Covar, vice president for academics; Chip Donoghue, vice president for activities; Anita Bodrogi, vice president for the arts; Deanne Grimaldi, student assembly delegate; Traci Moorcroft, chief justice of the court of appeals; and Maureen Gordon, associate justice of the court of appeals.

Elected to the Student Senate were: Russell Banks, Laurie-Kay Lare, William Murphy, Rhanda Khader, Ann McLaughlin, Theresa Rosati, Deanne Grimaldi, Howard Cohn, Arthur Shade, Eric DeCarlo, Lynn Beebe, Kimberly Kenyon, Janice Lee Tucker, Brian Acard, and Lori Carozza.

WOMEN'S STUDIES RECEIVES $35,771 GRANT FROM NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR HUMANITIES

A grant proposal, authored by Dr. Suzann Buckley, professor of history, and Dr. Patricia Higgins, associate professor of anthropology, for the Women's Studies Program has been funded by the Youth Projects Division of the National Endowment for the Humanities. The $35,771 grant, plus $11,229 in matching funds from the college, will provide funding for a five-week summer workshop on "Family History in the North Country" for 25 middle school students from the Plattsburgh area. With the assistance of Plattsburgh State faculty members, local teachers and museum curators, the participants will explore local family history through interviews, archival research and analysis of library and museum collections. They will also prepare an exhibit for circulation and display and they will contribute to the development of an instructor's manual for use by local teachers and youth leaders.

Recruitment of sixth, seventh and eighth grade students for the program will begin in late January. Interested individuals may contact Buckley (564-2213) or Higgins (564-3003) for more information.

PAUL KEENER TO JOIN RETIREES

Paul Keener, off-campus supervisor of student teachers, has announced that he will join 21 faculty and staff members in accepting the early retirement offered this year by the New York State Legislature. Keener, associate professor in the Center for Teacher Education, joined the faculty in 1966. During his first five years with the education department, Keener taught in the campus school and assisted with student teachers. He then assumed his current duties and has supervised students in the Glens Falls, Saratoga, and, most recently, the Albany area.

SPECIAL SERVICES RECEIVES FUNDING THROUGH 1987

The United States Department of Education has announced that it will fund Plattsburgh's Special Services Project through August, 1987. The 1984 budget is $161,357. The total amount of the grant award will be in excess of one-half million dollars.

Dr. Eldridge Roark, vice president for academic affairs, commented, "The competitive funding proposal, prepared by Project Director Elizabeth Pasti, Thomas Moran and Peter Luguri was scored as one of the highest in the nation. Department of Education staff rated our SSP as having excellent past performance."

The Special Services Project is funded to provide academic and other support services to 375 educationally and economically disadvantaged students at the college. SSP has been on the Plattsburgh campus since 1978.

STUDENT ASSOCIATION HONORS STAN SUPINSKI

The Student Association has presented Stan Supinski, director of College Auxiliary Services, with an award for outstanding service to the students of Plattsburgh State. Outgoing SA President Spencer Weisbroth made the presentation during the annual SA banquet Sunday evening. The award read, "The Student Association presents this award for outstanding service to Stanley Supinski. On behalf of the students and the State University College of Arts and Science at Plattsburgh, be it known that this individual has demonstrated outstanding services and should be recognized for these achievements rendered to the students and college at Plattsburgh." This is the first time that the Student Association has presented such an award.

VOSS' 'NOTABLE FAMILY NETWORKS IN LATIN AMERICA' IS PUBLISHED

Notable Family Networks in Latin America, a book co-authored by Dr. Stuart Voss, professor of history, with Dr. Diana Balmori, visiting fellow in history and visiting lecturer in architecture at Yale University, and Dr. Miles Wortman, visiting professor of Latin American history at Baruch College and a political analyst with Multinational Strategies, Inc., has been published by the University of Chicago Press. The book, according to Voss, focuses on networks of notable family groups in Latin America. The authors offer case studies of three family groups in Buenos Aires, Guatemala and Northwest Mexico and survey the literature on family studies elsewhere in Latin America to further illustrate characteristic family patterns and variations. By tracing the patterns and evolutions of the families over three generations (1750-1900), Voss said, the authors demonstrate that these notable families provided continuity and coherence in each of the developing regions.

PALEOPATHOLOGY BOOK BY COHEN IS PUBLISHED

Dr. Mark N. Cohen, professor of anthropology, and paleopathologist George J. Armelagos of the University of Massachusetts (Amherst) have collected data on pathology from a number of prehistoric populations undergoing the transition from hunting and gathering to farming. This information, published in Paleopathology at the Origins of Agriculture (Academic Press, 1984), suggests that farmers often experienced poorer health and nutrition than their hunting and gathering ancestors.

"The road to civilization may have been bumpier than we like to think," said Cohen. "We have always assumed that human populations grew more rapidly after the adoption of agriculture because of improvements in human health and nutrition which accompanied 'technological progress.' But recent reports based on the pathology of prehistoric human skeletons indicate that this may not have been the case. The increasing size and density of human populations and the concurrent establishment of permanent settlements appear to have contributed instead to an increased risk of transmission of infections from person to person. The problems associated with waste disposal and contact with domestic animals created new health risks. In addition, heavy reliance on single crops like maize, which are deficient in essential nutrients, appear to have led to nutritional deficiencies."

"It now appears that the accelerated growth of human populations after the adoption of agriculture resulted more from changes in human fertility (a shorter interval between births) than from improvements in health or life expectancy," Cohen concluded. "In fact, much of the information gathered suggests that life expectancies may actually have declined as farming was adopted. Farming economies appear to have supported larger populations than hunting and gathering, but at the expense of the nutrition and health of most individuals."

TWO STUDENTS RAISE $$$ FOR COMMUNITY FOOD SHELF

Paul Bardis and Bill Mattar recently raised nearly $500 for the Interfaith Emergency Food Shelf in Plattsburgh. The two held a dance party at Reflections, a downtown night spot, with the proceeds going to the local charity. "We wanted to have a party for our friends," Mattar said, "Then we decided we'd turn the party into one that would be fun and help out some people in the community at the same time." The dance party, with music programmed by Ken Benson of WPLT, raised $470 for the food shelf program.

EMPLOYEES WILL NOT BE PENALIZED FOR SNOW DAY

On Thursday, December 6, President Joseph C. Burke closed the college because of the snowstorm. There have been many questions from employees about charging the time, especially since a number of employees had already left for work before the announcement. According to Mayerlyn Miller, director of personnel and affirmative action, employees who reported to work will receive compensatory time. Employees who did not report to work will not have to charge the day against their time.

FINANCIAL AID AVAILABLE TO STUDENTS FOR 1985-86

Although expansion of student aid programs is not expected for next year, low interest loans, institutional scholarships, and employment are available to those who demonstrate need and apply by the deadlines, according to Suzanne Sokolowski, director of financial aid. The required application, Financial Aid Form, and a detailed instruction sheet have already been distributed to all dorm mailboxes. Additional FAFs and instruction sheets are available at the Financial Aid Office on the 4th floor of Kehoe and at the Outreach Center on the 1st floor of the College Center. Students interested in applying for College Foundation Scholarships, College Work Study, Educational Opportunity Program grants, Federal Nursing Loans, and National Direct Student Loans should complete and forward a Financial Aid Form to the College Scholarship Service in Princeton, New Jersey, between January 1 and March 1. Both the FAF and signed copies of parents' and students' 1984 federal and New York State tax returns must arrive in the Financial Aid Office by April 15 for students to receive first consideration for college aid. The College Work Study Program requires the filing of an additional form. Students who want to be evaluated for CWSP must complete and submit a registration card between January 1 and April 15 to the Financial Aid Office or the Outreach Center in the Angell College Center. For Guaranteed Student Bank Loan processing, students must provide Plattsburgh with a completed application, Needs Test sheet, and parents' and students' signed 1984 federal income tax returns after May 1. Summer 1985 loans will be accepted after March 31, 1985.

DR. AND MRS. HANS HIRSCH HONORED AT ART EXHIBITION

An exhibition of antique drawings and prints is on display in the Myers Fine Arts Gallery in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Hans Hirsch. Hirsch, professor emeritus of history, served on the college faculty from 1949 to 1975. During his tenure at the college, Hirsch chaired the Division of Social Sciences and the history department. He received the Distinguished Service Award on his retirement. In 1951, Hirsch was responsible for the first official art exhibit at the college, a show of antique paintings held in Hawkins Hall, and continued to arrange for exhibitions, never fewer than seven each year, until 1964 and the inception of the college's own permanent art collection.

Included in the current exhibition are works by Rubens, Durer, Lucas Van Leyden, Canaletto, Callot, Rembrandt and Turner. The pieces are on loan from Skidmore College and from various private collections.

Hans and Vera Hirsch welcomed visitors to the exhibition during its recent opening.

SPORTS UPDATE; HOCKEY CARDS DEFEAT OSWEGO, GENESEO

The Cardinal hockey team continued to dominate ECAC Division II, defeating archrival Oswego State Friday night 6-4 and Geneseo State Saturday night 7-5. The Cards are ranked number 1 in Division II, with a 7-0 record (10-3 overall). Last year's SUNYAC Rookie-of-the-Year Dave Piromalli led the team with two goals and two assists. Thursday the team meets Union at the Field House to end the first semester.

The women's basketball team downed Middlebury College, 76-36 on Friday evening, but were then beaten by Cortland State Saturday night, 76-53. Caroline Henshall had a team-high 34 points in the two games. The men's basketball team suffered through a long week, losing on Wednesday night to Potsdam State, 83-54, and to Albany State, 75-57, on Saturday night. The men's team will be at home Saturday evening, taking on Johnson State at Memorial Hall, while the women are now through until January.

The men's and women's swim teams met UVM and Albany State last week and both teams lost both matches. A high spot for the women in the Albany meet was a new team record in the 200 medley relay and an outstanding performance by Marianne Kenny who took three first places and set a team record in the 500 yard freestyle. Both teams are idle until January.

weekly notes

Dr. Thomas Braga, associate professor of French and Portuguese, has published an article entitled "Castro Alves and the New England Abolitionist Poets" in the December issue of Hispania. . . Dr. Gary Brannigan, professor of psychology, has received a three-year appointment to the editorial board of two professional journals: Journal of Genetic Psychology and Genetic Psychology Monographs. An article by Brannigan and former graduate student Toni Trunfio McCormick, entitled "Bender-Gestalt as Indicators of Anxiety, Withdrawal, and Acting-Out Behavior in Adolescents," in The Journal of Psychology. . . Dr. John Goldthwait, professor of philosophy, has been informed that a work of which he is co-translator (with Raymond Meyer), is scheduled for publication in fall, 1985 by Ohio University Press. The book, originally published in German, is Ontology of the Work of Art, by Roman Ingarden, a Polish phenomenological philosopher. . . Dr. Peter Gore, professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, recently spent two weeks in Ecuador with a group of three Rotarians. The Rotarians made a visit to the site of their sponsored agricultural project in that country to help set up the programming for the next six months. During their stay in Ecuador, Gore attended a meeting of extension agents and did some informal testing of the pesticide use symbols he is developing through another grant. Gore has also been invited to give a guest lecture on the use of computers in development projects to a group of Egyptian middle level managers who are attending a training course at Cornell University. . . Two articles by Dr. Padmini Gulati, assistant professor in the Center for Human Resources, will appear in a book titled Housing Needs and Policy Approaches: Trends in 13 Countries which will be published by Duke University in the spring. Gulati also wrote the book's introduction and edited one of the books' four sections. The book is designed as a text to be used in graduate and undergraduate programs in social welfare, planning, sociology and urban affairs. . . Dr. Edwin Hamblet, associate professor of French, has been invited to read a paper on contemporary French drama at the Colloquium on Language and Literature to be held in February at Rollins College in Florida. . . Dr. Richard Lamb, assistant professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, has had his manuscript, "The Morphology and Vitality of Business Districts in Upstate New York," accepted for publication by the journal The Professional Geographer. . . Dr. Henry Morlock, professor of psychology, recently attended a meeting entitled "Social Science Education and Computer" at Skidmore College. . . Dr. Noel Smith, professor of psychology, attended the New York Conference of the American Association of University Professors held recently in New York City. Smith is secretary of the organization. . . Dr. Stephen Steinlight, assistant professor of English, has been appointed visiting lecturer in English at the School of English and American Studies at the University of Sussex, England, from January through June. Steinlight will teach courses in Victorian Studies, the English novel, major 19th century literary texts and lyric poetry and will offer a series of public lectures on George Eliot. Steinlight has also been invited to France in April to lecture at the Institute Britannique de Paris. . . Dr. David Stoloff, assistant professor in the Center for Teacher Education, recently attended the Northeast Regional Conference of the Comparative and International Education Society, a conference which focused on "Schooling in Japan and the US in Comparative Perspective." . . Dr. John Tomlin, associate professor of sociology, recently submitted a published article, "The Victims of White Collar Crime," and a working paper, "DWI Defendants: Victims and Beneficiaries of a Court System," to the Nelson A. Rockefeller Institute of Government at SUNY Albany, for publication consideration in its spring 1985 publication series. Both papers are related to the field of victimology.

NINA WINKEL TO RECEIVE SUNY HONORARY DEGREE

Sculptress Nina Winkel will receive an honorary Doctor of Fine Arts degree from the State University of New York. Winkel's nomination, along with several others, was approved by the SUNY Board of Trustees on Tuesday.

Winkel was born in Borken, Germany in 1905 and studied in Essen, Dusseldorf and Paris. She and her husband fled Europe in 1942, having lost family, all their possessions and their cultural ties. Arriving in New York City, Winkel began a lasting affiliation with the Sculpture Center, of which she is president emeritus. Her work has led her to be named an Academician of the National Academy of Design and she has earned five gold medals, including the meritorious E. Watrous Gold Medal (which she earned three times) and the Samuel F.B. Morse Medal. The National Sculpture Society has added its official approval of her work, making her a Fellow and awarding her its Louis Bennett Prize.

Winkel has been accepted either as juror, exhibiting artist or colleague by many of the major museums and professional societies in the country. Her work has been exhibited in the Allentown Art Museum, American Academy of Arts and Letters, Whitney Museum of American Art, San Francisco Museum and the Detroit Art Institute, among others.

In 1981, Nina and George Winkel returned to West Germany for the first time and were welcomed back with a photo documentation of 100 of Nina Winkel's larger works. She was also commissioned to do a sculpture for a large wall in the newly constructed town hall. Last May, upon completion of the multi-piece "School of Athens," the German government dispatched a Luftwaffe plane to Plattsburgh Air Force Base to transport the work to Germany.

In 1983, the Winkels selected Plattsburgh State as the repository for many of her works and a permanent "Winkel Collection" is currently being established on the campus. At the age of 79, Nina Winkel continues to actively pursue her life's work. She has written, "A positive acceptance of life, and particularly of its sorrows and difficulties, can make a human being strong to transmit lasting values to others through his or her work, not so much by a reasoned program, but by the natural and spontaneous productiveness of a loving nature. The ideal artist is like a fruit tree, bringing forth its fruit regardless of gatherers or markets. Art is love, transformed into work."

ALBERT F. LUCK ESTABLISHES FOUR FOUNDATION SCHOLARSHIPS

Albert F. Luck, retired president of Luck Bros, Inc., former treasurer of Lake Champlain Development Corp., and a prominent Plattsburgh businessman, has established four scholarship funds, with proceeds to be awarded to Plattsburgh State University College students in honor of his late wife, Agnes, and her two sisters, Gertrude and Mary Powers, both of whom are deceased, and all of whom are alumni of the college. Income from the four scholarships, estimated to total approximately $1250 each on an annual basis, will be given to and administered through the Plattsburgh College Foundation, of which Mr. Luck is a member of the Board of Directors.

The Albert and Agnes Luck Scholarship (Engineering 3/2) will be awarded annually to one or more undergraduates in the 3/2 Engineering program. The Albert and Agnes Luck Scholarship (Elementary Education N-6) will be awarded annually to one or more undergraduates majoring in elementary education (N-6). The Mary Powers Scholarship will be awarded to students majoring in the elementary and early secondary education (N-9) program, and the Gertrude Powers Scholarship will be available to students in the graduate program in guidance and counseling. Three of the four scholarships will be awarded to "residents of Clinton, Essex or Franklin Counties, with preference given to graduates of St. John's Academy, Mount Assumption Institute or Plattsburgh High School." The Albert and Agnes Luck Scholarship (Elementary Education N-6) will be awarded without regard to residence. All four grants will be made on the basis of academic ability and financial need.

In addition to receiving the annual income from the Luck scholarship funds, the College Foundation will receive the principal, totalling $50,000, as a deferred gift.

Mr. Luck has been associated with Luck Bros., Inc. and Lake Champlain Development Corp. for 35 years and is still a part owner in both corporations. He has been a long-time member of the Foundation's President's Club.

ALBERT F. LUCK ESTABLISHES FOUR FOUNDATION SCHOLARSHIPS (continued from page one)

His late wife, Agnes Powers Luck, was a 1923 graduate of the Plattsburgh Normal School. Long active in community affairs, Mrs. Luck was the first alumnus to be appointed to the College Council and served in that capacity from 1956 through 1964. She taught in Morrisonville and at the Monty Street School in the Plattsburgh City School District, and retired in 1960. She was a member of the New York State Retired Teachers Association and Delta Kappa Gamma, an honorary professional teachers organization. Mrs. Luck was also vice president of the Lake Champlain Development Corp. and secretary of Luck Bros. Inc. Mrs. Luck passed away July 12, 1982.

Gertrude Powers, a 1920 graduate of Plattsburgh Normal School, later earned a master's degree from the Teachers College at Columbia University. She taught in Middletown, Morrisonville, and Lake Placid for many years and retired in 1968 from the Lake Placid School system. Like her sisters, she was a member of Delta Kappa Gamma. Ms. Powers died August 30, 1981.

Mary Powers was a 1925 graduate of Plattsburgh Normal School and taught in Cadyville, Gloversville, Champlain and the Bailey Avenue School in Plattsburgh, from which she retired in 1967. She, too, was a member of Delta Kappa Gamma. She died November 7, 1981.

NEARLY 300 STUDENTS RECEIVE DEGREES ON FRIDAY

Approximately 270 students will receive bachelor's or master's degrees or certificates of advanced study during the annual winter commencement ceremony scheduled for 2 p.m. on Friday, December 21 in the Memorial Hall Gymnasium. Two students, Patricia Anne Adams-Baxter and Timothy Strong will receive their degrees summa cum laude, having earned a grade point average of at least 3.9 out of a possible 4.0. Adams-Baxter is an early secondary education (science) major from Ballston Lake, N.Y., and Strong, from Elizabethtown, has a double major in English and sociology. Graduating magna cum laude (grade point average between 3.7 and 3.89) are Nanci Agee, Plattsburgh, elementary education; Cathy Ann Bedard, Tupper Lake, sociology; Wendy Field, Peekskill, special education; Kathleen Kennedy, Keeseville, history; John Truman Kuznia, Greenfield Center, accounting; Gwen Marie O'Keefe, Glens Falls, special education; Maureen Ann Shannon, Oneonta, English; and Jacqueline Vierno, Staten Island, health education.

In addition, fifteen students will graduate cum laude (grade point average between 3.4 and 3.69). They are: John Peter Bradley, Belmar, N.J., computer science; Patricia Buckley, Brasher Falls, business management; Julie A. Bunker, Saranac, elementary education; Jeananne Marie Denton, Glens Falls, early secondary education (English); Kelly Ann Garrant, Saratoga Springs, accounting; Nancy Jeanne Hales, Wappingers Falls, hearing and speech science; Linda J. Halsted, Conesus, elementary education; Holly Babe Ann Heller, AuSable Forks, environmental science; Marlene Sue Hofstetter, Hudson, special education; Alicia Anne Infante, Albany, speech and hearing handicapped education; Joseph Anthony Iorlano, Highland, accounting; JoAnne Christine Kresse, Levittown, hearing and speech science; Maria Anne Lowther, Syracuse, speech and hearing handicapped education; Michael D. Pemrick, Greenwich, anthropology; and Ralph Scaglione, Spring Valley, communications.

Junior communications major Deborah Pacyna from Poultney, Vermont will deliver the commencement address. Pacyna, an active member of the college's forensic team, is only the second student to be designated for this honor.

COLLEGE ADOPTS 55-MINUTE CLASS HOUR, REVAMPS CALENDAR

The College Calendar for the next two academic years has been adopted by the Executive Staff, according to President Joseph C. Burke. The new calendar is based on a 55-minute class hour, which is a major change. The adoption of the 55-minute class hour allows the college to open after Labor Day, rather than in August, and still conform to the mandated number of contact minutes.

Burke explained that the Executive Staff took into consideration several principals, which were passed by the Faculty Senate, and their impact on the educational mission of the college. "In considering the number and duration of vacation breaks, and whether these breaks impose a financial hardship," Burke said, "we have broken the two semesters into periods of 4-6 weeks between breaks, and have limited those breaks to two per semester." Four-day weekends are scheduled in October and in February. However, Burke said, "we found it impractical to cancel classes on Election Day, Veteran's Day, Lincoln's Birthday, and Martin Luther King Day."

The current two-week spring break will be reduced to one week, making the two semesters more similar in length. Combined with the 55-minute class hour, this change allows the college to end the semester the first weekend in May. The earlier end will more easily accommodate the double summer session.

Two of the principles addressed by the Senate are not represented in the new calendar. "We found no justification to observe religious holidays by cancelling classes," Burke said. "To observe all religious holidays creates a calendar which is not educationally justified, and we feel it is inappropriate to observe some, while ignoring others." The other issue not addressed in the calendar is the coordination of classes and vacations with the BOCES calendar. "The public school calendar, which typically resumes winter classes on January 2nd, and ends classes late in June, is so different from ours that it is impossible to coordinate spring vacations."

The calendar for 1985-86 shows the college starting classes on September 5. There will be no classes on October 11 or 14; the Thanksgiving break will begin November 22 and end December 2; and the semester will end on December 20. Second semester classes begin January 15; there are no classes on February 14 or 17; spring break is scheduled for March 14 - March 24 and commencement will be held on May 4. Copies of the schedule for 1985-86 and 1986-87 are being distributed to the faculty this week.

DECEMBER 24 AND DECEMBER 31 TO BE 'LIBERAL LEAVE' DAY

While the college will not be closed on December 24 and December 31, an official directive from the personnel office says that "a liberal leave policy will be employed on those days." The memorandum adds that this policy is the same one used for the Friday after Thanksgiving. Employees who choose to take time off on either or both of these days must charge the absence against accrued leave credits.

FOOD SERVICE REINSTATED FOR JANUARY 14 AND 15

College Auxiliary Services has announced that meal service has been reinstated for January 14 and 15. Originally, those "feeding days" had been eliminated in an effort to reduce meal plan costs for the year. However, due to some savings in utilities, CAS has been able to reinstate meal service for the two days and brunch and dinner will be served, at a projected cost of $20,436.

FIRST COURSE APPROVED FOR ADVANCED WRITING REQUIREMENT

Beginning in the Fall of 1986, students majoring in Biology, In Vitro Cell Biology and Medical Technology will be required to complete successfully a junior level writing-intensive seminar as part of the college wide Advanced Writing Requirement. The course proposal, drafted by Dr. C. Leon Harris, has received approval from the Committee on Writing Across the Curriculum in November. A primary goal of the Biology proposal is that "faculty who teach seniors should see improvements in laboratory reports and term papers." No credit hours will be added to any of the Biology degree programs. All major programs at the college must submit Advanced Writing proposals by February 25, 1985.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS RECRUITING PROSPECTS FOR FALL, 1985

Forty-nine student volunteers have been trained as peer recruiters and are visiting high schools in or near their hometowns to interest prospective students in Plattsburgh State. According to Sue Krishnan, the admissions office intern in charge of the peer recruitment program, the 49 students visited 42 high schools during the Thanksgiving recess and talked with more than 300 prospective applicants. During the semester break, 38 peer recruiters are expected to make visits to high schools.

SPORTS UPDATE; HOCKEY CARDS EXTEND WINNING STREAK

The Cardinal hockey team ended the first semester on top of the ECAC Division II heap, with an 8-0 record (11-3 overall), defeating Union College, 5-4, in overtime Thursday evening. The Cards, down 4-2 with minutes remaining, tied the score with just 18 seconds remaining in regulation play to force the overtime period, then won on Tim Collins' goal 5 minutes at 5:19 into the extra period. The Cardinals will return to action at home on January 5 and 6 against the Royal Military College and will face Oswego at the field house at 7:30 p.m. on January 12.

The men's basketball team extended its losing streak to six last week, losing to Division I UVM, 67-48, on Tuesday and to Johnson State, 58-57, on Saturday. The Cards will try to get back in the winning column in the Hunter College Tournament December 28-29 and will return to Memorial Hall on January 15 against Hartwick.

TUITION WAIVERS AND ASSISTANCE AVAILABLE TO EMPLOYEES FOR SPRING SEMESTER

Tuition waivers and assistance are still available for the spring semester, according to Mayerlyn Miller, director of personnel and affirmative action. Miller reminded employees that full waivers and partial tuition assistance can be used for either graduate or undergraduate courses. In addition, with the permission of the instructor, employees may audit courses at no cost, but, of course, receive no credit. "We believe this is a very important program," Miller said, "because it allows our employees to improve their job skills and also to prepare for career advancement on the campus." During the fall semester, a total of 23 campus employees received waivers and assistance. The deadline to apply for assistance for the spring semester is January 4 and applications are available in the Personnel Office.

SUMMER THEATRE WORKSHOP TO PRESENT 'SWEENEY TODD'

Plans for the Second Annual Summer Music Theatre Workshop are underway, according to Richard Probert, director of the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. Probert announced this week that this summer's workshop participants will produce the Stephen Sondheim musical "Sweeney Todd," which enjoyed a successful run on Broadway about five years ago. "This musical," said Probert, "is considered to be one of the finest examples of the new wave of music theatre, and combines superb music with excellent examples of all the other elements (sets, lighting, orchestration, etc.) of contemporary theatre." Returning for a second year with the workshop will be director Mitchell Weiss and choreographer Carol Estey. The Center is currently auditioning professional actors and actresses who will assist with the workshop and play two of the leading roles in the production. Projecting a year into the future, Probert added that the 1986 Summer Theatre Workshop production will be "West Side Story."

CHORAL ARTS SOCIETY RECRUITING NEW MEMBERS TO CELEBRATE BACH'S BIRTHDAY

The Choral Arts Society of Northeastern New York is currently seeking new members. In celebration of the 300th anniversary of Johann Sebastian Bach's birthday, the Society will perform the "St. John Passion" on April 21 and will begin rehearsals in January. The performance will be given in collaboration with Boston University and Thomas Dunne, who is the music director of the Handel-Haydn Society. Faculty and staff members interested in joining the Choral Arts Society are asked to call Richard Probert (564-2180).
